Victim Of Mill Valley Fire Dies

Mrs. Ione Peck of Mill Valley died at 3:10 p.m. yesterday in Marin General Hospital, the third fire victim to die in Marin County within three days.

Mrs. Peck, 54, of 6 Lower Alcatraz Place, was burned over virtually her entire body when flames consumed her bed Monday afternoon. She never fully regained consciousness.

Private funeral services for Mrs. Peck were held this morning in the Wilson and Kratzer Mortuary, Richmond, followed by inurnment at Rolling Hills Memorial Park, Richmond.

A native of Montana, she was a member of the League of Women Voters of Mill Valley. She is survived by her husband, Kenneth Peck, a court reporter for the federal courts in San Francisco; and daughters Judith, Janice and Karen Peck, all of Mill Valley. Also surviving are her father, David Lake of Harlowtown, Mont., and brothers Richard Lake of Blackfoot, Idaho, and David Lake of Kalispell, Mont.

Earlier deaths due to burns were those of Robert G. St. George, 40, of 2298 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, who died Wednesday, and Darlene M. Reed, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Reed, 88 Elm Avenue, San Anselmo, who died Tuesday.

St. George never regained consciousness after being carried from his blazing home early Sunday. His partner in a Tiburon beauty salon, who shared the home also, Paul Edwards, was still in poor condition today at Marin General Hospital from burns suffered in the same fire.

Patrons of Paul and Bob's Beauty Salon at 169 Tiburon Boulevard, Tiburon, which St. George and Edwards operated, have started a fund for the Tiburon Fire Department, in appreciation for firemen's quick action at the blazing home. An assistant in the salon, who identified herself as Miss Jellen, said the fund has grown to $15. She reported that workers in other Marin County beauty salons have volunteered to help in the business, but the shop will remain open under its own staff.

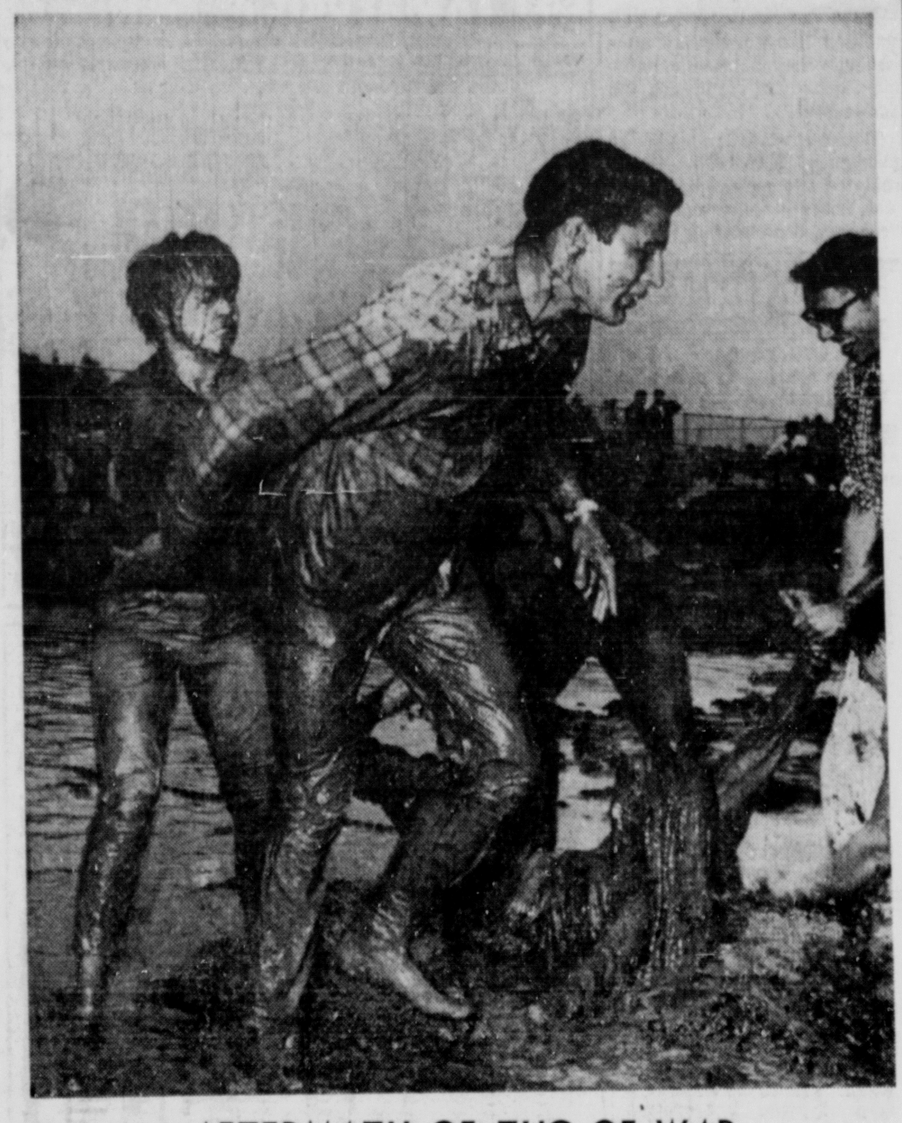
Funeral for the Reed child was held this morning at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo, followed by burial in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.



AFTERMATH OF TUG OF WAR

Even the girls got muddy as they tried to help their heroes in froshsoph tug-of-war at College of Marin yesterday, a highlight (sort of) in Homecoming Week activities at the Kentfield school. The one down in the mud here wasn't the only one to ruin coiffure, complextion and clothing. The hero in foreground is sophomore John Rudolph. (Story and another photo on page 14). LBJ Calls Issue War; Barry Says Free World Ailing

Brief Johnson Security Scare

COMBINED AP & UPI

President Lyndon B. Johnson tracked along a big city campaign trail in the East and Midwest today, hammering hard at the issue of peace or war—and telling the voters that if he is elected "the world you save will be your own."

There was a brief security scare in Philadelphia, where Johnson's motorcade was halted a block from its destination at Temple University and then proceeded a block beyond the intended speaking site before the president got out to talk. A man was discovered in the vicinity with a hunting rifle and was taken into custody by police for questioning.

The rifle bolt was out, indicating it had not been fired.

Johnson motored past street crowds of many thousands in populous North Philadelphia, then flew to Detroit for an airport rally where he gave heavy emphasis not only to the peace issue but also to prosperity. He vowed both would continue if he is elected Tuesday.

TO MILWAUKEE

Heading next to Milwaukee, which has a large population of persons of Polish and German extraction, Johnson placed stress on the topic of immigration.

He declared that his "Great Society" program will call for changes in laws affecting entry of people from other lands.

In a speech for a rally at Milwaukee's Kosciusko Park, Johnson said:

"Two-thirds of the total immigration quota goes . . . to people who never use all their quotas.

"We want to abolish those discriminatory quotas gradually over a five-year period and raise the overall limit by 2,000—or 1/80th of 1 per cent of our work force.

"This would permit the reuniting of families that have too long been broken. We are all Americans. We are one nation—one people."

FOREIGN POLICY

On foreign policy matters, Johnson took note of the ouster of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and said, "the other day a crack appeared in the Kremlin wall."

"It spread to the Iron Curtain," he said.

"We cannot know what the future will bring.

"But we do know now that there are vast changes going on in the Communist camp. Red China has challenged the Soviet

'Lyndon Laughs In The Streets'

COMBINED AP & UPI

Sen. Barry M. Goldwater stumped the West today charging the Free World "has been coming apart at the seams" during the campaign "while Lyndon laughs and Lyndon shouts for votes in the streets."

The Republican presidential nominee attacked President Lyndon B. Johnson's foreign policy at an airport rally in Cheyenne, Wyo., where about 5,000 people turned out on a blustery, sun-swept day. He said the United States has lost Turkey as an ally and suffered other foreign policy defeats in recent weeks.

BIG WIND

"You've got a real Hubert Humphrey going here — a big wind," Goldwater quipped as the wind whisked his necktie out of his suit coat and whipped it over his shoulder.

He also displayed a Western-style branding iron presented to him at Cheyenne and said if he seemed to be looking at it with "some idea of what I'd like to be doing with it—I am!"

Goldwater headed West after a final bid for Pennsylvania's 29 electoral votes. With three campaign journeys, he has made that state his one major target in the Northeast.

ROARING RALLY

The GOP contender rolled by train from Harrisburg to Pittsburgh, hammering away at Johnson before crowds that ranged from about 2,000 to 5,000.

He capped a day of rain-splattered whistlestop speeches at a roaring rally that packed Pittsburgh's civic arena with more than 13,000 last night.

Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, introducing the man he had challenged for the presidential nomination, said there were 25,000 people in the hall and standing outside. Police estimated 17,000.

DRAWS BOOS

"At the convention I had differences of opinion with the nominee," Scranton said. "In some respects I still have." That drew a chorus of boos.

Scranton, who has campaigned nationally for Goldwater, turned the boos to cheers when he added: "I do not believe in walking out on a party. I do not believe in walking out on our nominee."

Bodega A-Plant Plan Withdrawn

Company Bows To Report

A nuclear power plant will not be built at Bodega Head in Sonoma County because of doubts expressed on its safety by the Atomic Energy Commission staff.

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. today announced it is withdrawing its application for a nuclear power plant to the AEC.

"The doubt raised by the staff, although a minority view, is sufficient to cause us to withdraw our application," said PG&E President Robert H. Gerdes in San Francisco.

"We would be the last to desire to build a plant with any substantial doubt existing as to public safety."

On receiving the report of the PG&E withdrawal from Bodega, Congressman Don H. Clausen said:

"From the beginning it has been my position that experts and not politicians should make the final decision regarding the safety factors . . . With the withdrawal of the application, the matter is concluded. It is now our job to cooperate with the leaders and the citizens of Sonoma County and to proceed with the orderly development of Bodega Harbor and Bodega Bay area in light of this decision."

Democratic Congressional candidate George E. McCabe of Santa Rosa commented:

"As a conservationist at heart, I am glad the atomic plant will be withdrawn. The withdrawal

Scene Of Worst Marin Crash To Get Construction To Separate Traffic

The San Rafael viaduct, scene of Marin's worst traffic crash June 27 when six were killed, is going to be equipped with a metal beam median barrier.

The California Highway Commission, meeting in Sacramento yesterday, allocated $149,000 for the construction of the barrier. It will begin at the north end of the viaduct and continue south to the end of the Corte Madera Creek bridge in Larkspur.

The southern point of the project will connect with an existing barrier.

Since the head-on crash in which six died last June, there have been two other major injury accidents, both involving head-on collisions. Most recent was in the rain yesterday morning when three persons were hurt.

The commission yesterday also allocated $23,000 as state share in extending a culvert at the Scottsdale development near Novato. Total cost of the county drainage project of which this is a part is $923,000.

Marinite Pilots Historic Brigantine Into The Bay

Wheeler plans to use the 50-foot wood-hulled ship for charter trips, probably under captaincy of Martens, and keep it moored at Jack London Square in Oakland.

Wheeler sailed aboard the ship as a lad. He has changed the name from Iron Cross, which was used by Ketcham, to its former name of Rendezvous.

Ketcham has owned the vessel several years and used it for charter trips out of Newport Beach down the coast of Mexico, to Hawaii and Tahiti.

Built by Capt. J. C. Ackles, the Rendezvous was purchased by Hyalmar Groneman, San Francisco chiropractor, and piloted to San Francisco in 1933. Groneman sold the Rendezvous in 1946 to Gilbert H. Doorly, an Omaha, Neb., newspaper owner.

Sale of the boat to Wheeler was arranged by Dick Miller of Bauman Brothers and Dick Miller Associates in Sausalito. Price was reported as in the neighborhood of $65,000.

Miller said the Rendezvous, although it carries sails, is diesel-powered, fully carpeted, and has a crystal chandelier in the stateroom. It sleeps 13.

Martens, about 42, is an ex-Maritime Service sea captain and lives with his wife at 116 West Street. He teaches celestial navigation in Sausalito and other bay cities and delivers boats and does charter work.

Hammer Victim Is Still Critical

Hammer beating victim Mrs. Mary L. Jones of Marin City remained in critical condition at Marin General Hospital today, 10 days after her estranged husband allegedly struck her down in a Marin City parking lot in a quarrel over the couple's children.

The husband, J. D. Jones, 30, is due in Marin Superior Court Monday morning for arraignment on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

Blue Skies, Warm Sun Follow Four-Day Storm

Blue skies and a warm sun today followed a four-day storm that brought a peak 4.9 inches of rain to Marin County and gave prospects of a winter to come that will be wetter than last year.

The rain, although falling in hard showers at times, never reached the cloudburst stage. There was little damage. Major problem came on highways where accidents were blamed on wet pavements and poor visibility.

San Rafael received 3.20 inches from the storm, getting .92 since 8 a.m. yesterday. This brings the season total to 3.23. This is ahead of the Oct. 30 average of 2.14 and ahead of last year when the total was 2.52 at this time.

The Weather Bureau predicted continued warm weather tomorrow with mild winds.

County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom said today that the rain was not heavy enough through the county for him to declare an end to the fire season. Southern Marin and Northern Marin received less than the central areas of the county.

Rainfall totals reported at 8 a.m. today were:

Span Board Asks For Study Power

Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District this morning agreed to ask the state legislature to widen the power of the district to allow study of other crossings to Marin County.

The request will come before next year's legislative session and would allow the bridge board to put up moneys for their own or joint studies with other agencies.

The district now is limited to consideration of crossings only directly across the Golden Gate which would restrict studies of proposed bridges which might end in Tiburon or cut off from the Richmond - San Rafael Bridge.

NWP Seeks To Block Rebuilding

The Northwestern Pacific Railroad today asked the State Supreme Court to block an order requiring rebuilding of the Puerto Suello tunnel north of San Rafael, scheduled to start Nov. 13.

In a separate action, the railroad asked a stay of the order until the U.S. Supreme Court rules on denial by the Interstate Commerce Commission of the railroad's application to abandon the rail route.

The State Public Utilities Commission on Sept. 22 ordered a start on rebuilding of the tunnel by Nov. 13 and completion within 150 days after starting work.

The tunnel was partially destroyed by fire set by two small boys on July 22, 1961.

The railroad, asking that the order be permanently set aside, declared it was issued on insufficient evidence and constituted taking of property without due process of law.

Trouble Areas Due Double Patrol

Double patrol in known trouble areas in Marin County for Halloween is scheduled tomorrow, Sheriff's Capt. Sidney Stinson said today.

He said all regular deputies, plus a supplement of reserve officers, will start the increased patrol of 20 cars at 6 p.m. and continue until threat of problems subsides. Special attention will be paid the vicinity of the football game between Sir Francis Drake High and Manteca High in San Joaquin County, to be held at College of Marin stadium, Captain Stinson said.

Impeachment Evidence Is Ruled Out

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The State Supreme Court yesterday overturned the time-honored rule in California jurisprudence that refusal to testify before a grand jury could be used as impeachment evidence in a trial.

The ruling, without a dissent, was made in ordering a new trial for Jay Sharer, convicted of assault in Superior Judge Curtiss E. Wetter's Red Bluff court.

RURAL ROAD

Sharer and Cornie Grootveld had an altercation June 28, 1962, on a rural road in Tehama County and exchanged blows. Sharer, called before the Tehama County Grand Jury, refused to testify on grounds of possible self-incrimination.

The grand jury indicted him for assault with intent to commit murder.

During the trial, he and Grootveld accused each other of being the aggressor in the fight.

Judge Wetter allowed the prosecution to produce the grand jury transcript to show that Sharer had refused to testify on grounds of possible self-incrimination.

SILENCE ISSUE

The elleged contrast between the plea of innocent at the trial and silence based upon possible self-incrimination was intended by the prosecution to impeach Sharer.

The trial jury convicted Sharer of simple assault and the judge ordered him to pay a $750 fine, serve 90 days in jail and be placed on probation.

Reds Falling Into Line Behind Nikita Ouster

MOSCOW (AP)—European Communist parties are falling into line behind the new Soviet leadership, apparently accepting Kremlin explanations that Nikita Khrushchev was removed for bungling in the Cuban crisis, the rift with Peking and an assortment of other failures.

Official Kremlin statements on Khrushchev's removal are couched in general terms, but Communist sources said a document containing 29 charges—including those on Cuba and Red China—is being circulated in Soviet Communist party units.

The Hungarian Communist party was the first to endorse Khrushchev's removal, declaring last Sunday that he had made "regrettable mistakes." Polish party chief Wladyslaw Gomulka on Wednesday said the Soviet party's leaders had "grounds" to accept Khrushchev's resignation.

A French Communist delegation sent to Moscow to obtain explanations for the power shift returned home yesterday after issuing a communique emphasizing solidarity of the French and Soviet Reds.

The communique made no mention of Khrushchev. But it said the two parties had frank and friendly talks and would "continue consolidating the fraternal relations, bonds of traditional friendship and mutual confidence, which exist between" them.

An Italian Communist delegation began meeting with Soviet leaders after the French left. Communist sources said the Italians also wanted to ask about Khrushchev.

No Beatle Cuts

RUTLAND, England (UPI)—J. D. Buchanan, headmaster of the 360-year-old Oakham school, today warned parents he would not accept boys wearing beatle haircuts. He said he was worried about "a real decline in standards of appearance."

Saigon Mayor Takes Over As Premier

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Tran Van Huong, former mayor of Saigon, was named today to succeed Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh as premier despite ill health which hampered his work as mayor.

Huong, 60, said he planned to name Dr. Nguyen Luu Vien, Khanh's uncle, as deputy premier and defense minister. His other Cabinet choices were not certain.

Huong's appointment by the new chief of state, Phan Khac Suu, must be confirmed by the 16-member high national council responsible for setting up a new government.

Because of Khanh's relationship to Vien, there could be strong opposition to Vien's being named defense minister. In that post he will have a seat on the powerful four-man national security council, and Khanh is expected to fill one of the other seats as chief of the armed forces.

Civilian Government

CAIRO (AP)—Sudan got a new civilian government today, but President Ibrahim Abboud remained chief of state and his power appeared only slightly diminished. A communique broadcast by Omdurman Radio said Abboud would exercise "all the constitutional powers" but with the "approval of the cabinet."

Seven Die In Fire

COLUSA (AP) — Seven elderly persons, groping blindly in thick clouds of smoke, were killed today in a fast-moving fire that burned down the Oak Manor Rest Home for the aged. "They were dead when the fire reached their bodies," said Colusa County Coroner Howard Moore.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Riots Shake Ole Miss Campus

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—Students fired up by a football pep rally kept the University of Mississippi campus in violent turmoil for hours early today.

The uproar was a sort of combination panty raid, police stoning and "car rolling."

The car belonged to Burns Tatum, chief of campus police. It was overturned and barrel rolled down a hill. He wasn't in it at the time.

The raid, good humored at first, turned angry as the night wore on.

Bomb Scare For Mrs. Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal and city officers Thursday night made a roof-to-cellar search of the apartment and the building where Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her two children live, after an anonymous telephone caller said a bomb had been planted in the Kennedy apartment.

Nothing suspicious was found by the FBI and Secret Service agents and city police and firemen.

Mrs. Kennedy and the children, Caroline, 6, and John F. Jr., 3, did not leave during the search, a Secret Service agent said.

U.S. Attorneys Told To Keep Open House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Acting Atty. Gen. Nicholas deB. Katzenbach has instructed all U.S. attorneys to keep their offices open on election day until the polls close so that they may receive and act promptly on any reports of violations of federal election laws.

"Where prima facie federal violations are disclosed, immediate FBI investigations should be requested and witnesses should be interviewed promptly," Katzenbach said in a telegram to the attorneys.

Planners Due Synanon House Zone

The meeting starts at 9 a.m. but the Synanon matter is at the end of the agenda and may not be discussed until the afternoon session.

LAST SESSION

At their last session commissioners said they would like to generate a spirit of cooperation between Synanon and the county. Synanon failed to file for a use permit for its operation in Marshall by the deadline set by the planning department.

The planning commission also will consider:

APARTMENT PLAN

A use permit for 18 apartment units between Highway 101 and Alameda Del Prado, on the south side of the former entrance to Loma Verde, sought by Robert Pollock (item 10).

A tentative map of an 11.6-acre subdivision, known as Reedlands Unit 4, in Reedlands Heights, Tiburon Peninsula, submitted by Marin Title Guaranty Co. (item 11).

A tentative map of a 17-acre subdivision, named Horse Shoe Hill, between Olema - Bolinas Lower Road and Olema-Bolinas Upper Road, submitted by Elizabeth McDaniel (item 18).

New Flag Design Doesn't End Canada Debate

OTTAWA (AP) — The Canadian government has a new proposal for a flag design but apparently it will not end the drawn-out debate on the issue.

A 15-member committee recommended to the House of Commons yesterday that the new design be a single red maple leafe on a white ground with a red bar at each side. It would replace the red ensign with the British Union Jack in the upper left-hand corner.

Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's Liberal government is seeking a flag devoid of the British symbol to help promote allegiance from separatist sympathizers in French-speaking Quebec Province.

Opposition Leader John Diefenbaker said Thursday night that the new proposal was not acceptable to the Conservatives because it lacked the support of at least 13 of the committee's 15 members.

Swede Tells How Nazi War Code Was Cracked

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Eric Boheman, former Swedish ambassador to Washington, says the Swedish government cracked the Nazi code in World War II and relayed word to London that Germany would attack the Soviet Union.

Boheman said he met Sir Stafford Cripps, then British ambassador to Moscow, in Stockholm early in June, 1941. Cripps was going home to report that the Germans apparently would not attack the Soviet Union. But Boheman said he told Cripps an attack would be made between June 20 and 25. The invasion began at dawn June 22.

Boheman said two Swedish mathematicians reconstructed the German coding machine and the Swedes decoded messages until Germany altered its code system in 1942.

Surgeons Watch For Brain Injury

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI) — For the man wielding the scalpel it would be helpful if the surgical patient's blood pressure had been lowered to a marked degree below the normal. With less force behind it, his flowing blood would give less trouble.

The doctor administering the anesthesia could lower pressure at will and keep it at the lower level for as long as the surgeon worked. It can be done with drugs and the patient's breathing is "controlled" rather than spontaneous which assures a safe operation.

But can it be done without damaging his brain? This is a question long argued in surgery, with indefinite pros and cons on both sides. It now has been put to the test of I. Q. ratings before surgery and psychological tests afterwards, and the results are heartening to the pros.

To function the brain is dependent upon the oxygen-bearing blood flowing through it. To function properly it must be permeated with blood and science is uncertain how much pressure has to be behind the blood flow to permeate — since normal blood pressure has a considerable range.

Dr. J. E. Eckenhoff, professor of anesthesia, University of Pennsylvania, and J. R. Compton, an English psychologist, had at the question with the full paraphernalia of scientific "matched" testing and statistical analysis of the results.

They "matched" two groups of 18 candidates for plastic surgery of the face, mainly surgery designed to alter shapes of noses, by ages and by I.Q.'s. None was more than 40 years old and all 36 of them were physically sound and in health.

During their surgery they remained conscious and were able to talk, which gave the surgeons and the anesthetists a running check on how well their brains were doing throughout. If it showed any sign of sagging, the anesthetist gave it a chemical prop. The blood pressure of the other 18 was deliberately lowered and maintained throughout at the lowered level.

Two, three and six days after the operations all of them were put through psychological tests to find out if their brains were functioning as well as the preliminary I.Q.'s indicated they should. These test results were scored in the required objective ways, and then analyzed statistically to eliminate any possible bias.

They showed that the brains of those whose blood pressure had been lowered responded as well to testing as those whose pressure remained normal. But "deliberative hypotension is not always an innocuous procedure without danger to the brain," the scientists warned.

India Getting Ready For Pakistan Summit

By TREVOR DRIEBERG
Worldwide Press Service

NEW DELHI—India is taking a second and closer look at its policy on the disputed territory of Kashmir, in preparation for summit talks with Pakistan after that country's elections next March.

The continuing instability in the Kashmir Valley, and the need for an understanding with Pakistan are increasingly recognized by leaders of Indian public opinion—particularly in the context of the growing influence of Communist China in Asia and Africa, revealed with such embarrassment for India at the recent conference of non-aligned nations in Cairo.

Ghulam Mohammed Sadiq, the prime minister of Jammu and Kashmir, has won a vote of confidence in the state legislative assembly which he closed last month when former Prime Minister Bakshi Ghulam Mohammed was arrested in Srinagar. But the developments which followed this action have shown that the influence of Bakshi, still in detention without trial, is strong in the ruling National Conference.

In fact, it is still so great that the executive committee of the Congress Parliamentary Party here has advised Sadiq to drop his promised inquiry into charges of corruption against the detained leader, to come to an amicable settlement with the Bakshi wing of the national conference, and to release the Bakshi himself from prison.

Political memories in this capital are not so short as to forget that for nearly 11 years Bakshi Ghulam Mohammed wielded absolute power in Kashmir with the full support of the Nehru Government. Also that during this period Bakshi's corrupt practices and "excesses" were widely known but conveniently slurred over "in the national interest."

The fear is now great here that if the Bakshi is exposed and punished, his considerable following in the national conference will team up with Shiekh Abdullah. (He is an earlier premier, long jailed but now free, who advocates a plebiscite for Kashmir to determine its own future and who personally favors independence.) This would make a very formidable combination which could overthrow the non-too-secure Sadiq regime.

Delhi's new thinking on Kashmir starts by recognizing that both India and Pakistan bear blame and have much to be ashamed of on the Kashmir issue. This is a big departure from the hitherto current practice of blaming Pakistan for everything that has fouled relations with India during the last 17 years.

In a very frank appraisal of Indian-Pakistani relations, a special correspondent of the much - respected newspaper, Times of India, says: "Emotionally the Kashmir problem is all-pervasive; territorially, however, it is by unspoken consent essentially limited to the valley which comprises just under half the population of the state and a twentieth or less of the area.

"A settlement honorable to all concerned is possible provided the dispute is taken out of the atmosphere of supercharged emotion that has surrounded it so far."

The correspondent makes a proposal which, there is good reason to believe, the Shastri government is sympathetic to. He suggests that Pakistan's special interests in the Kashmir valley should be recognized by a treaty including "facilities for free movement by Pakistanis to and from the vale, special trade protocols, complete internal autonomy for the valley within the ambit of Indian sovereignty, and territorial adjustments that would give Pakistan contiguity with the valley and control over the headwaters of the Kishenganga river such as were in fact discussed at the last round of Indo - Pakistani negotiations." (That was early last year.)

Thus Pakistan would "enjoy" the valley and India would not "lose" it. India might in exchange ask Pakistan for some territory in the Kargil sector of Ladakh and in the northern tip of East Pakistan which would widen the 25-mile corridor between Assam and the rest of India.

The Times of India correspondent notes that such an accomodation would have to be worked out on the basis of a common desire to bury the past and establish friendly and cooperative relations for the future.

He says that if Jammu and Ladakh were to merge completely with India, and Gilgit and Azad Kashmir were to merge with Pakistan, this would be a "natural division, not partition, of the State of Jammu and Kashmir and would leave each country with rational geographical and administrative boundaries."

This arrangement, he says, would not disturb the outer boundaries of India and Pakistan—"a major advantage to the extent that this would neither pose any new problems of external security for either country nor upset the existing geopolitical balance in central Asia."

It is suggested that after a cooling-off period of 10 years the arrangement might be reviewed "in the light of prevailing circumstances. A decade of cooperation between India and Pakistan will meanwhile have brought about a complete transformation in relations between the two countries. In these circumstances the valley will have ceased to be a 'problem' or will certainly have become one of a far, far lower order of significance than at present."

For the Shastri government to act on these views, which a strong section is believed to share, would require great courage on the part of the prime minister. For such a move would certainly generate hostility, particularly among the extreme right-wing Hindu parties and among that section of the Congress Party led by "progressives" such as former Defense Minister Krishna Menon, to whom holding Kashmir at all costs is professedly a basic act of faith.

But such diehards are receiving diminishing attention, and a bold move by the Government to break away from the past hard policies on Kashmir, would be bound to yield favorable results, in the view of impartial political observers here.

Power Is Cut At 10 Stores

A short-circuit in underground electrical wiring left about 10 stores in the 900 block of Fourth Street without electricity for about 45 minutes today.

San Rafael firemen stood by while Pacific Gas and Electric Co. workmen restored service to all but three of the stores.

Redwood Direction Sign Is Missing

Theft of a redwood directions sign, valued at $150, was reported to Marin County sheriff's officers yesterday by Lawson H. Brainerd, chief ranger at Muir Woods National Monument.

Brainerd told deputies the hand-carved sign, 4x4 feet, was taken from the main parking lot.

BODEGA

probably represents an intelligent decision in the face of reports from safety experts. An orderly development of Bodega Harbor as a harbor of refuge and for fishermen's facilities can now proceed."

PG&E halted work a year ago. The work started two years ago after application for a work permit.

"We have repeatedly stated that if any reasonable doubt exists about the safety of the proposed Bodega plant we would not consider going forward with it," Gerdes said.

"The Bodega site and the engineering design of the plant were studied extensively and confirmed as safe by eminint consultants in geology, seismology and seismic design. The Advisory Committee on Reactor Safeguards, an independent group of 12 eminent scientists and engineers established by law to advise the Atomic Energy Commission, came to the same conclusion. We are convinced that these views are sound.

"The regulatory staff of the AEC, however, has recently reported that it has some doubt 'at the present state of our knowledge' about the capability of the structure to withstand the maximum assumed earthquake. Although agreeing that 'the proposed engineering principles appear reasonable,' the staff has expressed concern over the lack of any experimental or experience proof-test of them.

"The doubt raised by the staff, although a minority view, is sufficient to cause us to withdraw our application. We would be the last to desire to build a plant with any substantial doubt existing as to public safety.

"We have made provision for adequate electric generating capacity elsewhere to take care of our customers' needs for the several years immediately ahead.

"Our decision to withdraw the Bodega application does not mean we have lost any confidence whatsoever in nuclear-electric generation. Atomic plants are safe and dependable, as experience in California and elsewhere has shown. Nuclear fuel is plentiful and rapidly is becoming the most economic heat source for power generation. Its application is especially important for meeting the future energy needs of growing California."

Manslaughter Hearing Set

Arguments following testimony in the preliminary hearing of manslaughter and felony drunk driving charges against Thomas J. Barfield of Bolinas will be held in Santa Rosa Municipal Court next Wednesday afternoon.

Testimony was concluded yesterday with California Highway Patrol Officer Charles Prindle, one of the officers who reported a fatal head-on crash near Petaluma Sept. 27.

The CHP contends that Barfield was headed the wrong way in a southbound lane of Highway 101. A 45-year-old Santa Rosa woman was killed in the crash.

Press Start Times Cause Late Paper

Late press starts because of an unusual succession of three-section papers resulted in late delivery of the Independent-Journal to many subscribers Wednesday and yesterday.

Circulation manager Julian C. Leone said every effort would be made for earlier delivery, despite the squeeze caused by the long press run. The I-J has new presses on order to speed production.

Pickpocket Lifts Woman's Wallet

She noticed the billfold was missing after returning from the County Club Bowl, 88 Vivian Way, San Rafael, yesterday afternoon.

GETTIN' READY FOR GOBLINS

Felons Trick, Tie Guard, Take His Car

Two San Quentin convicts tricked and tied up a guard, stole his car, and escaped from a Sonoma County conservation camp at 2 a.m. today, according to James W. L. Park, associate warden at San Quentin Prison.

A manhunt began in the Cazadero area after the stolen car was found in a ditch four miles from the Black Mountain conservation camp.

The escapees are Harry Thais, 30, serving six months to 10 years from Los Angeles County for auto theft and possession of narcotics, and James Howard, sentenced to five years to life for first degree burglary in Glenn County.

Park reported that one of the pair went to the camp office at 1:50 a.m., requesting Guard C. P. Schulte, 39, to open the kitchen so he could begin preparing breakfast. When Schulte did so, the other convict already was inside. The two men threatened the guard with kitchen knives.

After tying up Schulte, the convicts took his car keys, and two civilian jackets from the kitchen, then drove away.

The guard managed to hobble to a nearby forestry office to sound the alert, but it took him 45 minutes to cover the distance, Park said.

Kettenhofen Blasts Fusselman's Charge

Ernest N. Kettenhofen, candidate for county supervisor from the Second District, branded William D. Fusselman's "innuendoes" in a political advertisement in yesterday's Independent-Journal as "untrue and a last-minute act of political desperation."

Kettenhofen said that "any businessman is subject to lawsuits over a period of 20 years and that it doesn't follow a businessman is dishonest—as Fusselman implies—because of that fact.

(The advertisement referred to a 1955 court case involving the size of lots in a Novato home development.)

"Furthermore," said Kettenhofen, "Fusselman left out of his accusation the fact that the judge had said there was no fraudulent intent. The incident took place more than 12 years ago. The controversy involved a real estate commission's regulation at the time that the commission must be informed in writing of a lot reduction. I had so informed the commission verbally but not in writing."

Kettenhofen said that one years ago, he provided full information on that case to Fusselman.

"Mr. Fusselman has had an opportunity for 11 months to tell the voters about this item, and I was ready to give the matter full public airing. But instead, he waits until a few days before the election in order that he may distort the facts and limit my response to the voters," he declared. (Independent-Journal deadline to introduce new issues into the campaign was yesterday.)

"I have challenged Fusselman to public debate for 11 months now and he has participated in only two meeting out of 16. Not once in these 11 months has he had the honesty to make these charges to the public and to me face to face."

Park, Rec Session

The Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission will meet Monday at 8 p.m. in the firehouse, rather than Tuesday. The meeting time has been changed because Tuesday is election night.

German Court Accept Camp's 'Death Books'

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—A suitcase full of documents captured by the Soviets in the Auschwitz concentration camp today was brought into the court trying 20 guards and functionaries at the camp.

The documents were submitted by Prof. Nicolai Alexeiev, dean of the Leningrad University law faculty.

Among them were several "death books" of the nazi's extermination camp where millions perished from disease, famine, torture and in the gas chambers.

As he examined the books, presiding Judge Hans Hofmeyer said they contained death certificates of thousands of Auschwitz inmates.

Volume 26, for example, contained records of about 1,000 deaths a day at the camp toward the end of 1943.

Among the other documents were orders signed by former camp adjutants Franz Mulka and Karl Hoecker, both defendants.

When Hofmeyer wanted to read the documents into record as evidence, defense lawyer Hans Laternser objected that the defense should first be allowed a glance at the papers.

After lengthy argument, the court ruled that it would accept the documents, then let the lawyers look at them briefly and have them microfilmed.

William O. Weissich, Marin chairman for Goldwater-Miller, announced that buses from the Novato headquarters will leave at 9:30 a.m. Monday. Departure time from all other headquarters is 10 a.m.

NO ON 14

More than 75 Marin organizations, churches, civic groups and governmental units have passed resolutions condemning Proposition 14, according to Duane Beeson, Marin chairman of Californians Against Proposition 14.

The list presented by Beeson includes church groups of various denominations, school boards and P-TA groups, governmental agencies and county-wide organizations.

AD CRITICIZED

San Rafael City Clerk W. L. Morgan and City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen took issue today with a political advertisement for Byron Leydecker which appeared in the Independent-Journal on Wednesday.

(The ad was headed "Juggling???" Under it was a clip news story on San Rafael's preliminary budget, in which the city clerk was quoted as saying the expenditures were estimated at $3,759,626 and receipts at $3,243,056. The difference would come from the city's accumulated surplus.)

"Using my name and with reference to 'juggling,' a deficit of $516,000, and San Rafael's true fiscal status, is most disgusting to me," said Morgan. He said the advertisement "definitely points out his lack of understanding of public finance."

City Mgr. Anderson said: "The budget for this fiscal year is a sound one, and one that will give citizens more progress and better facilities than anything that has been accomplished in any given year during my seven years in San Rafael."

BAGLEY SPEECH

Assemblyman William T. Bagley stressed the importance of maintaining a balance of power between the two parties in the state legislature and maintaining a "broad based" Republican Party, in his last major campaign appearance in Marin last night.

He spoke at a reception at Nave Lanes, Novato. Bagley's Marin chairman, Fred F. Enemark, and his Novato chairman, Edwin H. Grunstrom, were co-hosts.

Assemblyman Bagley called for a Republican Party "which has room for and appeals to all races, all creeds and all walks of life."

Bagley will appear on an hour and one-half telethon tonight in Sacramento with George Murphy, Republican candidate for U.S. Senate. It will be on channel 3 from 8 to 9:30 p.m.

STUDENT BACKING

The student newspaper of San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo has endorsed George E. McCabe for Congress, Vera L. Schultz for state Senate, and William T. Bagley for state assembly.

Thomas T. Storer, campaigning for supervisor in West Marin, is on one month's leave of absence without pay from the district attorney's office.

This statement was issued by by William C. Rautio, Storer's chairman in San Geronimo Valley. It was in repiy to a published letter by a Lagunitas resident, which said Storer "is currently campaigning on a paid leave of absence."

The district attorney's office confirmed that Storer is on leave of absence without pay.

AAUW VIEWS

The state division of American Assn. of University Women is opposed to Propositions 15 (anti-pay television) and 16 (lottery), Mrs. Bruce H. Collins of Mill Valley reported today.

The association is for Propositions 2 (college bonds) and 3 (school building bonds), and recommends a "no" vote on Proposition 14 (housing amendment).

Tennis Club's 'Glares' Checked

The Tiburon Planning Commission checked "glare" from the lights of the Belvedere Tennis Club at several neighboring homes last night.

Commissioners, with two representatives from the tennis club, which is located in Tiburon, toured homes in the Hawthorne Terrace area where homeowners say they are bothered by lights on club courts used for night play.

Loan Fraud Sentencing Scheduled

A Marin County resident and a Vallejo man face sentencing Nov. 13 as the outcome of a long-drawn and complex real estate loan fraud case. Charges against two other Marin County men were dismissed in Napa County Superior Court yesterday.

Ross Eugene Kelly, 64, of 13 Hillside Avenue, Kentfield, entered a no-contest plea to charges of obtaining $91,000 from Silverado Savings and Loan Assn. of Napa by false statements. Robert E. Skinner, 42, of Vallejo, former manager of the loan firm, also entered a no-contest plea to charges that he accepted a $4,000 bribe to make loans to Kelly.

The court dismissed conspiracy charges against Dan R. Nunan of 5 Nunan Lane, San Rafael, and William R. Atkinson, 12 Sienna Way, San Rafael, arising from the same Napa County Grand Jury investigation in which Kelly and Skinner were indicted last April.

The indictments against the two remaining defendants allege that Skinner made loans in excess of the state finance code, and received a kickback in a transaction involving purchase of property in Terra Linda.

Church Takes Stand On Prop. 14: No

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Rt. Rev. James A. Pike directed today that a pastoral letter opposing Proposition 14 be read from all pulpits of the Episcopal Diocese of California on Sunday.

The diocese embraces central coastal counties.

The pastoral letter concludes: "Though the church has no position on the Rumford Act, itself, its view on Proposition 14 is unambiguous: It is NO."

Bishop Pike wrote: "It is the teaching of this church, as well of other principal churches, that racial discrimination as to housing is normally wrong, as a denial of equal opportunity for all of the children of God.

"Your elected lay delegates and the clergy of the diocese affirmed this principle last February in an overwhelming vote against Proposition 14.

"The church is neither approving nor disapproving the Rumford Act as such; it is clearly disapproving this attempt by initiative to remove from the state legislature and from local legislative bodies the capacity to deal by public means with this public evil of discriminatory practices in the sale and rental of real property."

Seven Seeking Three Rec Unit Vacancies

There is a field of seven candidates for three seats on the Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District board in Tuesday's election.

The candidates include two incumbents, who were recently appointed to fill unexpired terms, and five challengers.

The candidates are:

A native of Ireland, he has lived in Terra Linda since 1961 and has served as treasurer of the Santa Margarita School Teacher-Parent Assn., as a member of the budget finance committee of the Dixie School District, and as an organizer of Cub Scout Pack 234.

Lagunitas Youth Injured In Crash

David Wilson, 19, of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Lagunitas, suffered a slight back injury at 4:45 p.m. yesterday when a car driven by Gerald Knight of San Francisco, swerved to avoid a deer and hit a fence.

Wilson was a passenger in the car. The accident happened on Sir Francis Drake west of Lagunitas, as the car was headed east. Wilson refused hospitalization.

Court Rules Search Limit After Arrest

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A police search made without a court warrant must be limited to the premises where the arrests was made and under the defendants' immediate control, according to the California Supreme Court.

The ruling yesterday reversed the San Francisco conviction of Joe Ramo Cruz on a charge of marijuana possession. He was arrested in 1962 in his car parked only a few feet from the apartment house where he was a guest of the tenants.

Agents not only searched the car, but searched the apartment where they found a suitcase containing marijuana. Cruz admitted owning the suitcase, but denied owning the marijuana.

The court, in a unanimous opinion, said that when an arrest is made without a warrant, any search must be incidental to the arrest and is limited to the premises where the arrest is made.

Woodacre Club Rejects School Idea

Members of the Woodacre Improvement Club voted 55-33 last night against having a school adjacent to their land with pupils sharing club facilities.

The vote represents about half of the eligible voting membership, according to Mrs. E. Kurt Kalemba, wife of the club president.

Trustees of the Lagunitas School District have been debating the selection of a school site in the Woodacre area. Trustees John Keilty and John Nielsen explained the proposal to members at the meeting.

School Supt. Marshall J. McCunniff said today he did not know what the board's next step would be. The board will undoubtedly discuss it at the next regular meeting Tuesday, he said.

Man Sentenced For Opium

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Federal District Judge Oliver J. Carter yesterday sentenced Ng Pui Yu, 71, to two years imprisonment for possession of opium.

He was convicted under the Jones-Miller Act, which carries a mandatory five year sentence.

"I do not think he is a fit subject for rehabilitation," said the judge as he sentenced Yim under the more lenient Harrison Narcotics Act.

Novato Unified School Unit 'Ticket' Backed

A "ticket" of the five members of the present Novato Unified School District board and two from San Jose District board is being backed by a committee headed by Leo Mindling, former Novato School District trustee.

Daniel H. Barber and William Vandergriff of the San Jose board are included on the slate which the "Committee For a Fair and Efficient School Board" is pushing. Barber lives in Lynwood and Vandergriff in Loma Verde, the north and south ends of the San Jose district.

"We like our own philosophy of education better," Mindling said in explaining the committee's support for all five of the Novato board members: William H. Kirk, Marett B. Boissevain, Leonora M. Dougherty, Gordon M. Leathers and William G. Schneeflock.

Shooting Aftermath

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States sharply condemned today the shooting down of an unarmed American C-123 transport plane by Cambodian border forces last week. Eight Americans were killed.

Candy Sale Benefit To Start On Sunday

A month-long candy sale to benefit the school building projects of the Women's American Organization for Rehabilitation Through Training will begin Sunday, Mrs. Allen Beallo of Terra Linda, president of the Marin chapter, said today.

The organization sponsors schools in France, Israel and other countries where students receive apprenticeship training, she said.

President Says 'World You Save May Be Own'

Union for leadership of the Communist camp.

"And the restless stirrings in Europe suggest that Moscow can no longer impose its will on the tragic captive countries of Eastern Europe.

"The task for the United States is to keep our politics flexible—to keep them responsible and to search for new opportunities for freedom in a rapidly changing world."

At a news conference yesterday following his arrival in Los Angeles, Adlai Stevenson challenged Goldwater's claim he never had proposed quitting the United Nations.

Stevenson listed a number of remarks he attributed to Sen. Barry M. Goldwater—the most recent Feb. 7, 1964—to the effect the United States no longer had a place in the world organization.

"I can understand Senator Goldwater's inability to remember what he has said about the United Nations," Stevenson said. "He has said so much pro and con on every subject that I'm surprised he has not asked for equal time to answer himself."

Stevenson suggested that Goldwater might be helped by reading a passage from "Alice 'n Wonderland" in which she is admonished about speaking precisely.

When told that she should say what she meant, Stevenson recalled, "Alice replied, 'I do at least—I mean what I say—that's the same thing, you know.' To which the Door Mouse said, 'You might just as well say I breathe when I sleep is the same as I sleep when I breathe.' "

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey stumped the Northwest today, drumming away at a theme that depicts Goldwater as unfit to carry the Republican party banner.

"Senator Goldwater advocates reactionary ideas wholly outside of the best traditions of the Republican Party," the Democratic vice presidential candidate said at a rally at Pocatello, Idaho.

He put it another way last night in Topeka, Kan., where he launched a final western campaign swing through eight states that gave the GOP their 81 electoral votes four years ago.

Humphrey said: "Senator Goldwater is neither Republican nor conservative. He is a radical and a Goldwaterite. And radical Goldwaterism simply does not equate with conservative Republicanism."

Goldwater Hammering At Johnson

He was expected to criticize the administration particularly for its failure to prevent what he called the "disintegration of our alliances."

The New York congressman made a hopscotching tour of Montana, Oregon and California yesterday in a continuation of his blasts against the Democrats. He charged among other things that the administration of President Johnson would "bankrupt the Social Security System" and was intent on enlarging a strong central government.

Miller ended his day with an appearance before a gathering of about 2,000 in the flower exhibit hall on the Earl Warren showgrounds at Santa Barbara.

He got probably his biggest hand of the evening when he said it was the policy of the Democratic administration to "tax and tax through the Social Security system and bring money to Washington where they really know how to spend it."

Then he drew another big hand in this city, which is the site of the University of California at Santa Barbara, when he said, "Why don't they give tax credit to people who pay college tuition?"

Goldwater announced today he will campaign in San Francisco on Monday—a day before election.

He said he also may make an election-eve appearance in Fredonia, Ariz., a small community in the northern part of his home state that he calls "a good luck town."

Goldwater said he had always wound up successful campaigns in the past at Fredonia, a town of about 500 population. He opened his campaign last September in another "good luck town" —Prescott, Ariz.

Press secretary Paul Wagner said tentative plans for the San Francisco visit called for a noon-time rally.

Goldwater plans to fly to San Francisco from Phoenix Monday and return the same day to spend the night at his Arizona home.

At San Francisco, Gaylord B. Parkinson, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, predicted Goldwater will carry California on Tuesday.

He said yesterday he does not agree with professional pollsters who have predicted that Johnson will take the state by a million votes or more. GOP polls disagree, he said.

"Our polls show that we are doing better than they say," Parkinson said following a high-level GOP huddle.

"Senator Goldwater is coming up fast and the Democratic candidate is on the way down," he said. "The senator's strength is on the rise generally. He is peaking at the right time—just before election day."

Slide Inspection Results Not Told

Results of an inspection of a hillside that slid from under an Inverness house Tuesday morning were not revealed today.

A spokesman for the Inverness Water Co. said an insurance adjuster yesterday inspected the slide that destroyed the J. T. Kent Jr. home. But the spokesman would not say what the inspection revealed.

"I can't say anything," he said.

The mud slide occurred early in the storm before enough rain had fallen to cause a slide. Speculation that ground water or a burst or leaking water main caused the slide evidently prompted yesterday's inspection.

These Marin County Educators

VOTE NO on #14

Because we wish the best possible education for each child in Marin County, and because passage of Proposition 14 would negate this possibility, we, the following educators representing public, private and parochial schools—primary grades through college—recommend a "NO" vote on Proposition 14.

DINING OUT AND INNS

Rains Delay Building Roof Garden Facility On Cloud 5

Construction of a roof garden dining facility for Cloud 5 in Novato may have to give the rain clouds precedence, but Christine and Roy Bolton and Archie Sawyer definitely have it on their priority list. Completion may still be before the end of the year.

It will, of course, adjoin the upstairs Cloud Room, and should be a real asset to the restaurant during fair weather. A readjustment of the downstairs entrance to dining room and bar is also planned.

In case you don't know it, Cloud 5 features several German specialties and you'll find at least a couple of them on the menu every night—from Sauerbraten to Hasenpfeffer.

I have often thought that the next thing to a psychiatrist must be an understanding bartender. The latter certainly has the opportunity to put his "patients" in a relaxed frame of mind—and doesn't need a couch. Talking with Roy at the Cloud 5 bar, I find that he, too, has had somewhat the same thought.

But since he has no professional license for this sort of thing, any therapy must necessarily be that of the customers doing their own psychoanalyzing—with maybe just a suggestion or two . . .

Still—if you feel better when you walk out than when you came in, you might just call him "Doc."

NEW DINNER MENU at Peacock Gap Country Club set up by manager Ralph Woodworth features one very provocative dish known as the "Seafarer." This is a flaming sword specialty of Maine deep-sea scallops wrapped in bacon, along with Louisiana prawns and mushroom caps, and served with rice and Choron sauce.

NEW ENTERTAINER appearing at Nero's Restaurant in Nave Lanes, Ignacio, every evening except Saturday is Dorace MacKenzie at the organ. Her background in prominent engagements is considerable.

She has played at White House inaugurations, with Sammy Kaye, Rubinoff, Phil Spitalny, Guy Lombardo and with Sonja Henie. She also had her own orchestra at Suttmiller's in Dayton, Ohio. Dorace has brought her Hammond concert organ here from Phoenix, Ariz., and it's well worth a visit to hear her play it.

HERE ARE a couple of dining out bargains being offered by the Gold Nugget on the Miracle Mile midway between downtown San Rafael and San Anselmo:

On Monday, "half the chicken's on the house"—meaning you buy one chicken dinner and your companion dines free. Or work it the other way 'round. This is to introduce Gold Nugget's crisp, golden brown Maryland style chicken.

And Wednesday is "Mother's Day" here. Mom is guest of honor, dining without charge as long as she comes with pop and the kids. But then, she wouldn't be happy dining alone, anyway.

THIS ITEM might have been more appropriate last week for the start of National Wine Week, which ends tomorrow—but the following specialty doesn't:

It seems Sam's in Tiburon is now serving a dry champagne under its own label, "Sam's Cellars." Far as I know, no other dinery in Marin can make that claim. And it won't be long, according to Jim Bigelow, before Sam's will come out with red and white table wines under the same brand.

But the real specialty is a pair of Sam's de luxe hamburgers, French fries and a bottle of Sam's bubbly at a single price. And I guess it's the only dinery in Marin doing this, too.

FRANCHINI'S CHATEAU has announced it will be closed all day next Tuesday—Election Day.

"THE RECIPE for a good restaurant has many ingredients—but one of the most important is to have your heart in it."

Not the words of Pietro Pinoni (Greenbrae home winemaker), but they might well be. He is one of the most effervescent restaurateurs at work I have even seen—and his personality has its effect. From one end of his establishment (Pietro's 311 at 535 Washington Street, San Francisco) to the other he flits —welcoming guests, stopping to chat with many at the tables or bar, bidding departees "Arrivederci!"—and frequently bursting out in the strains of Italian song.

For years, 311 designated Pietro's address on Washington Street, but when he was obliged to close it nine or ten months ago for the Golden Gateway, he took over the premises of the defunct Le Poulet, two blocks west. Without breaking ranks, his customers (many of them from Marin) loyally tagged along.

If it weren't for this amazing following, I have no doubt he would move his restaurant over here where he lives.

Excellent fare (some of his Italian recipes are available—and his antipastos alone represent a full course), reasonable (dinners $3.85 to $5.95), good family place, colorful and attractive. Open also for lunches ($1.60 to $1.75). Closed Sundays and Mondays.

Marin Dining And Wining

WINNERS OF the 1964 Holiday Magazine award for distinctive dining includes Ondine of Sausalito among "San Francisco" restaurants—and they total 11 out of 99 listed in the entire U.S. Anyway, it does give Marin some share in Bay Area culinary glory.

All of the national winners have been invited this year to attend a three-day program today through Sunday that includes a restaurant seminar, tour of Napa Valley wineries, Western barbecue and reception. Climax of the festivities, a formal dinner and ball Sunday night, will be at the World Trade Club. San Francisco award winners are acting as hosts.

Ondine has been on the Holiday recommended list since its opening.

PANDORA RESTAURANT, San Anselmo, celebrated its first anniversary Wednesday night with one of the liveliest parties I've seen in a long time.

Such an affair wouldn't have been complete without the siren herself as the piece de resistance. She turned out to be Lynn Parsons, a statuesque, sultry-eyed beauty from San Francisco whose longitudinal dimensions are scarcely short of a fathom, and whose more serious talents are wrapped up in writing a satire about poodle dogs, to be released next month.

Crowning event was the auctioning of her golden gown, with San Rafael builder Bob Miller making the high bid of $90. Proceeds went to the United Crusade.

Wedding To Pave Way To U.S.

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (UPI)—Doreen Porter, glamorous Olympic girl sprinter, may not make it to Los Angeles by Dec. 19 for her wedding because of U.S. immigration quotas, friends said today.

Her fiance, U.S. Air Force Cadet Bud Barker, 23, may have to come here instead. As his wife, she could enter the United States immediately.

As his fiancee, she probably would have to get on the six-year waiting list for immigrants from New Zealand.

Girls, Too

CAMBERLEY, England (UPI)—The commanding officer of the local Sea Cadet Corps started a unit for girls after discovering the male cadets would rather date girls than attend meetings.

Korean Armistice Member Is Named

Blackburn succeeds Air Force Maj. Gen. Cecil E. Combs, who is being reassigned to Wright Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio.

Bare Orchard

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—LeRoy Bartholomew of Newport Beach, who owns a 27-acre apple orchard in nearby Julian, has a problem. Twice within the last two years thieves using heavy equipment have stripped his orchard bare. He estimated his loss at $1,000.

Bayside Acres Letter Rips Fill Plan; Facts Are Noted

A letter distributed in Bayside Acres this week says the San Rafael General Plan calls for "fill out to the Marin Islands" and accuses the Independent-Journal of suppressing the news.

The letter, bearing the name of Denis C. Muir of 30 Bayview Drive, was mailed to Bayside Acres residents.

It said, in part:

"The San Rafael General Plan, at present before the San Rafael City Council, will, if adopted, completely change Bayside Acres. It provides, among other changes, for fill out to the Marin Islands and for a 'high density residential area' (which means apartments) between the Marin Islands and McNear's Beach and extending round the coast for about a mile west of China Camp. . . .

"The Marin supervisors and the State of California have asked for a halt to the filling of the bay until a coordinated plan can be developed; but the City of San Rafael is ignoring this public-spirited approach and is racing to get its own plan through while it still can. . . .

"There has been little public controversy about the plan because few people know about it. References to it in the Independent Journal have been few, small and of a type not calculated to rouse the average reader's curiosity."

Since Aug. 27, the Independent-Journal has carried 140 column inches of stories devoted to the San Rafael General Plan. These cover the period from three days preceding the first planning commission public hearing through its submission to the city council, which will hold its first public hearing on the plan Nov. 9.

This total of 140 inches included seven stories, the shortest of which was eight column inches; the longest, 33 column inches. The longest story began on Page. 1. All but one of the others appeared under large headlines covering two or more columns.

There have also been references to the general plan in other stories during this period, and legal notices of the hearings. Earlier stories on the general plan in the Independent-Journal date back to submission of the preliminary plan in the spring of 1963.

The State of California has not asked for a halt on filling of the bay. A state legislative committee headed by Sen. J. Eugene McAteer of San Francisco has the matter under study but has made no recommendation.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors has asked the state to impose a three-year moratorium on filling of the bay. The Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen also asked for a state-imposed moratorium, provided enforcement be put in the hands of the Assn. of Bay Area Governments.

The Assn. of Bay Area Governments had proposed to all cities and counties that are members (some 70 cities and all but one of the counties surrounding the bay) that they enact ordinances banning fill of publicly owned tidal lands for three years and requiring that permits for any fill on privately owned lands be referred to ABAG, its decision to be binding. This was proposed when the president of ABAG was John F. McInnis, mayor of San Rafael. McInnis opposed a state-imposed moratorium, claiming legal counsel had held it could not be enforced and a court test would open the way for bay filling which could then not be controlled by the local governments.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors, at suggestion of Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, rejected the ABAG suggestion and asked instead for a state-imposed moratorium, thus removing responsibility from the county. The San Rafael City Council has not acted on the ABAG proposal, pending a legal opinion from City Atty. David Menary Jr.

The San Rafael General Plan, prepared by Daniel P. Coleman of San Rafael, a civil engineer who is also co-author of the West Marin Master Plan for the county, and by William Spangle of Menlo Park, a planning consultant who is also a lecturer at University of California, has this to say about waterfront development:

"The single area of greatest potential for expansion of the City of San Rafael is the tidelands area west of Highway 101, North and south of the San Pedro Peninsula lie hundreds of acres of these privately owned lands, all physically susceptible to development.

"Although these areas can contain some of the most interesting and attractive development within the planning area, great care should be taken in their development to preserve, as far as possible, the feeling of a water-oriented community . . .

"It is a recommendation of this plan that no less than 25 per cent of all tideland areas be left in open water . . .

"The plan provides for a considerable portion of the bay front to be reserved in public or quasi-public uses."

The map accompanying the plan shows suggested method of development of the privately owned tidelands. The city has no power to forbid development on these lands unless a moratorium is enacted—and may not have then, in the opinion of some lawyers. The City of Sausalito is defendant in a current law suit because it placed a moratorium on some tideland development.

Copies of the general plan are available for inspection at the San Rafael Planning Department office at 622 Fourth Street.

Off-Sale Beer License Denied

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The State Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control announced it has denied an application from Mercer J. and Geraldine E. Johnson for an off-sale beer and wine license for Jack and Jerry's Delicatessen, 108 Drake Avenue, Marin City, on grounds the premises are within 200 feet of a premises operated under the same type license.

The department announced also it has ordered an indefinite suspension of the off-sale beer and wine license of Robert J. Schilling, 1006 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, on grounds the licensee is not the true party in interest.

The department said the suspension would be terminated when Schilling submitted evidence he was the owner of the business or had transferred it to qualified persons. If neither is done by next April 29, the license will be revoked.

Chinese H Bomb Predicted Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Philip Abelson, a nuclear scientist and editor of Science magazine, says the Red Chinese could conceivably produce a hydrogen bomb in the latter part of the 1960s.

In an editorial in the latest issue of the magazine, Abelson said the possibility stems from indications reported by the Atomic Energy Commission that the Red Chinese used uranium 235 for the atomic device they exploded Oct. 16.

Directors also approved amendment to the park master plan which will move the site of the future community building from the parking lot area to a location close to Ricardo Road.

Directors set a special meeting for 8 p.m. Nov. 10 to accept the result of Tuesday's election in which Mrs. Charles P. Drolla, Mrs. William R. Heick, George C. Lopes and William H. McDonough are running for the two vacancies on the board.

Churchmen Split On Birth Control

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Leading Conservative prelates argued today against a new look at birth control by the Roman Catholic Church. They told the Vatican Ecumenical Council that married couples should trust in Divine Providence.

Two Vatican Curia cardinals —Alfredo Ottaviani and Michael Browne—rose in the council St. Peter's Basilica to oppose demands by other prelates for fearless re-examination of all aspects of marriage morality. Cardinals and bishops, many of them leading progressives, said yesterday the problem must not be avoided in the current council debate on its schema on modern world problems.

Cardinal Ottaviani, secretary of the powerful Vatican Holy Office, said he disagreed with present wording in the schema under debate that married couples should be free to plan the size of their families.

"This is something unheard of in the past ages of the church. Married couples should never doubt Divine Providence."

Cardinal Browne, Irish-born Dominican theologian who has worked in Rome for years, told the council: "We must stress that the primary end of marriage is the procreation and education of children."

Speakers had praised the schema yesterday for avoiding this traditional church teaching, that procreation in marriage is primary with precedance over love and sex.

Cardinal Browne said family planning was a subject "about which a discussion cannot usefully be held."

Several other bishops, arguing along the same lines as Cardinal Ottaviani, said the schema should emphasize trust in God's providence in bringing children into the world.

The council is deep in debate on marriage problems and other issues of the modern world. The theologians said a definite shift is coming in the church's traditional outlook on the sexual side of marriage, but none would predict how soon and how far Catholic dogma would be altered.

"We are in a stage of transition, and all the problems of such a stage surely exist," said the Rev. Arthur McCormack of Belgium's Louvain University.

"A poor couple that is sincerely worried wants the answers tonight. It's not that easy."

Leading prelates said in the council meeting yesterday that the church's position must be revised on the basis of modern science, that churchmen should have no reason to fear a deep investigation, and that conjugal love has as equal a divine basis as the command to procreate.

Judge's Son Jailed After Police Chase

LONG BEACH (AP)—The son of the late Superior Court Judge Lyman B. Sutter was jailed last night with another man after a police chase in which a shot was fired at an officer.

Lyman B. Sutter Jr., 24, and Roderick Joe Dick, 25, both of Long Beach, were booked on suspicion of burglary, robbery, carrying concealed weapons and assault with intent to commit murder.

Officers said the suspects were seen loitering near a motel apartment yesterday. They ran when police tried to question them, officers said. After a chase the men were cornered, and Dick drew a .38-caliber pistol and fired a shot at one of his captors, police said.

Afghanistan Royalty Visiting Red China

TOKYO (UPI) — Premier Chou En-lai of Communist China today welcomed King Mohammad Zahir Shah and Queen Homaria of Afghanistan on their state visit to Peking, the Communist New China News Agency said in a broadcast monitored in Tokyo.

Neutral Afghanistan, which accepts economic aid from both the United States and Russia, recently signed a border agreement and non-aggression pact with Red China.

Taylor Claims 'Deterioration' In S. Vietnam

SAIGON, Vietnam (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor said today there has been "deterioration and a loss of momentum in recent weeks and months" in South Vietnam.

But despite lack of progress in various programs here during the last year, "in the field, the operations against the Viet Cong have gone surprisingly well," he added.

Taylor made the comments in an interview with Columbia Broadcasting System, in which the main question was how Taylor felt about developments since the overthrow of the Ngo Dinh Diem regime a year ago.

Because of the political instability over the past year, Taylor said, "There has been no opportunity in this period to carry forward methodically and systematically the programs which we had laid out at this time last year."

Taylor said he had high hopes that the new civilian government would be able to produce a strong, stable regime. But he said only time would tell.

Asked whether he thought the tide in fighting could be turned without taking the war outside Viet Nam, Taylor said much would depend on the stability of the future government in carrying out existing plans before anything new is tried.

"I think we can go a lot farther with what we are doing before we consider any drastic changes. If this is not enough, plainly we must consider other ways of winning the victory."

Astronaut Col. Glenn Passes His Physical

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Doctors said today there is no apparent reason why Marine Col. John H. Glenn Jr., ailing the past nine months from an inner ear injury, cannot return to flying.

Glenn, however, reiterated plans to retire.

Glenn was officially released from Wilford Hall Air Force Hospital this morning after a two-day physical examination that will count as his retirement physical.

He fell in the bathroom of his Columbus, Ohio, apartment Feb. 26, slamming his head against the rim of the bathtub. The concussion caused an inflammation of the inner ear.

Smiling over a bowl of cereal, he said:

"Gosh, I feel fine. I'm in excellent shape. You know, after you've been knocked down and finally everything starts shaping up, it makes you feel real good."

Loma Verde Funds Don't Revert Back

Michael Mitchell, Marin County auditor-controller, today said that the statement in yesterday's article on Loma Verde in the Independent-Journal on the special services area funds was incorrect.

"These funds do not revert back to the general fund, but stay in the community services area fund," he said. This year the Loma Verde Community Services Area fund had a surplus of $3,964 from the preceding year, Mitchell said.

The article quoted Norman Roderick, past president of the Loma Verde Homeowners Assn., which administers the fund, and chairman of the Committee for Community Progress, which is pushing annexation of Loma Verde to Novato.

Fire In Coffee Shop Does $5,000 Damage

A pre-dawn fire which broke out today in the kitchen of Eugene's Coffee Shop at 909 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, caused damage estimated at $5,000 to the kitchen area, firemen reported.

Mrs. Shirley Tierney of 231 Union Street, San Rafael, who had been working at the restaurant for one week, called firemen at 5:36 a.m., moments after she saw smoke billowing from the kitchen while she waited on several customers.

The fire was extinguished five to 10 minutes after firemen arrived, but mop-up operations continued until about 6:30 a.m.

Firemen reported the blaze was apparently caused by grease on the restaurant's stove and griddle which was turned on by Jose Manuel of 2090 Vineyard Road, Novato, about 5 a.m.

Manuel and his wife, Isabel, have been staying overnight at the restaurant for several weeks and were in bed when their dog's barking alerted them to the smell of smoke.

The blaze was contained in the kitchen. Damage was to equipment and walls, firemen reported. The restaurant is owned by Eugene Lackenbach of 905 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael.

"MR. CLAUSEN IS A GOOD FRIEND OF CONSERVATION IN MARIN"

We here present a letter that is self-explanatory*

To the Committee to Re-Elect Congressman Don Clausen:

A letter using my name has been mailed recently to Marin Conservationists. This letter stated that our congressman, Don Clausen, "has shown no concern for conservation."

I wish to take this opportunity to say that I did not give permission to use my name for such a letter. Furthermore, it is my opinion that Congressman Clausen has been a good friend of conservation in Marin.

In particular, he has been most helpful to me and to The Landmark Society in helping us establish the Old St. Hilary's wildflower preserve in Tiburon.

Sincerely,

Beverly W. Bastian

Victims Of Cancer Appeal For Drug

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sit-in group of Krebiozen drug users who "do not believe our government will abandon us and let us die" sent a personal plea today to President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The 17 keeping a vigil in the outer office of Anthony J. Celebrezze, secretary of health, education and welfare, want the president to lift the federal ban on interstate shipment of the controversial drug which the government has ruled is worthless against cancer.

Before dawn broke over the capital, members of the Citizens Committee for Cancer Survivors on Krebiozen drew up a telegram to Johnson.

It said: "We appeal to you to lift the ban for those patients now using Krebiozen by executive authority exercisable in disaster affecting American lives.

"Your intervention would be received by our people and the world as a magnificent act of humanitarianism."

Most of the 17 keeping the vigil have cancer, a few do not.

Through the long night, some of the sicker patients in the group slept on mattresses just outside Celebrezze's office.

Spokesmen for the group said government personnel had been polite to them, making no effort to force them to leave and permitting food to be brought in to those conducting the demonstration.

"I wish they would be as kind to our lives as to our visit here, one man said.

The demonstrators came to Washington after the developer of the drug, Dr. Steven Durovic, and his brother Marko were indicted in Chicago by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiring to put the drug into interstate commerce with intent to defraud.

The Durovics surrendered Thursday to federal authorities, and U.S. Dist. Judge Sam Perry set bond at $500,000 each, reportedly the highest ever set in a criminal federal prosecution in Chicago.

Torpedo Heads For Waikiki

HONOLULU (AP) — The crosshairs were on Waikiki when the Coast Guard cutter Bering Strait accidentally released a practice torpedo at sea.

The projectile homed in on the famed resort strip, barely missed a moored sailboat and halted only five feet from the beach.

Then, another launching took place — an investigation.

Junior College Group Wants No Changes

FRESNO (AP) — Four hundred delegates to the California Junior College Assn. convention which ended here yesterday left the meeting committed to the idea of keeping the junior colleges under the jurisdiction of the State Department of Education.

The group's board of directors recommended that the association oppose any move to create a state board of regents for junior colleges. Their recommendation won the approval of Superintendent of Public Instruction Max Rafferty in a speech Wednesday.

To conclude the gathering, a report was read indicating that junior college enrollment was better than twice that of state colleges and universities.

Dr. Henry Tyler, association executive secretary, reported that the 465,000 students enrolled in two-year colleges is 26 per cent more than last year's figure and figures out to an increase of 97,000 students.

Russian Movie Queen Boasts Of High Salary

LONDON (AP)—Russian movie queen Natalya Fateyeva, a girl with one of the slinkiest shapes in the Soviet Union, reckons she can earn more money in Moscow than in Hollywood.

"I am highly paid," she told newsmen, "by any standards."

Her annual income in rubles is equivalentt o more than $100,000 at the official rate. For her apartment in Moscow, she says, she pays around $6 a week.

Auburn-haired, leggy and with a 36-25-37 figure Natalya is a far cry from the pudding-shaped female in the West's popular notion on Soviet womanhood.

"Russian men," she said, "like women to be beautiful. But they want them intellectual too. That is difficult and that takes time."

Another Nikita Man Is Out

MOSCOW (UPI)—Mikhail Kharlamov, a protege of ousted Premier Nikita Khrushchev, has been relieved of duties" as chairman of the Soviet Radio and Television Committee, Tass said today.

The Soviet news agency said Nikolai Mesyatsev, 44, a longtime Komsomol (Young Communist League) official and former diplomatic envoy to Communist China, would succeed Kharlamov.

Kharlamov was in Western Europe when Khrushchev was ousted. At the time, he denied he would lose his job, as had been rumored.

Nazi Says He'll Be U.S. President

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—American Nazi George Lincoln Rockwell told a gloomy San Francisco State College audience yesterday the stage is being set for his election as U.S. president.

About half the standing room audience of 800 students wore armbands bearing the Jewish Star of David.

Rockwell predicted that Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, whom he called a "fink," would lose to President Lyndon B. Johnson. In turn, he said, Johnson will kick off a depression that will put Rockwell in the White House in 1972.

CAUGHT BY CABLE TWO HOURS

Edwin Engquist, 59, grimaces in pain as he clutches a steel cable in which he was entwined and suspended upside down for two hours yesterday in an accident in Minneapolis. He was working alone on demolition of a gravel wash plant when a 1,500-pound steel girder tumbled to the ground and the cable knotted tightly around his legs. His cries for help were not heard as he dangled 40 feet above the ground. His legs were nearly cut through just below the knees. Both limbs had to be removed. (AP Wirephoto)

U.S. Living Costs On Upward Trend

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose two-tenths of 1 per cent in September, resuming an upward trend broken briefly in August, the Labor Department said today.

The increase took the government's consumer price index to 106.4. This means it took $10.84 last month to purchase typical consumer items that could be bought for $10 in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

President Lyndon B. Johnson had already announced the rise in prices in a Detroit speech in advance of the release here by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Higher food, housing and clothing prices contributed to the over-all September rise in the index.

Food prices were three-tenths of one per cent higher because of rises in meat and egg prices.

Meats went up 2.8 per cent from August, largely because of Midwest farmers withholding livestock from the market in an effort to get more money, the bureau said.

Fresh fruits and vegetables dropped 7 per cent, but were still about 7 per cent higher than a year ago.

Over-all, food prices were 1.7 per cent higher than in September 1963.

One notable development in September was a slight drop in the cost of medical care, the first since 1949.

The drop was one-tenth of one per cent. Arnold Chase, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said it seemed to reflect a slowing down of the long-term rise in medical costs, which have gone up faster than any other item in the price index for many years.

The September decrease was largely in drug prices, he said.

Housing costs went up two-tenths of one per cent, reflecting higher ownership costs and increases in fuel oil, textile house furnishings, furniture, and housekeeping services and supplies.

Warne Reports Good Progress In Water Plan

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — William E. Warne, state director of water resources, said good progress is being made in research and development for the pumping system to lift 108 million gallons of water an hour up a third of a mile in the Tehachapi Mountains in the state water project.

The 444-mile-long California aqueduct through the San Joaquin Valley and over the mountains will carry water to Southern California.

Warne has just received a report on 15 months of study on the pumping system by a private firm. He said the firm's studies are on schedule and, by early next year, he expects to have a basis for selection of the most dependable, efficient and economical system.

Total capacity of the Tehachapi pumps will be about 4,000 cubic feet per second, a flow greater than the combined summer flow of the Feather, American, Bear and Yuba rivers.

$200,000 In Gems Missing

NEW YORK (AP)—Gems worth approximately $200,000 including the world's largest star sapphire, the "Star of India," were stolen during the night from Manhattan's famed Museum of Natural History, police reported today.

Another extremely valuable item among the eight taken was what is called the "Star Ruby."

Police said the theft occurred sometime between 9 o'clock last night and 9 a.m. today.

The burglars apparently broke into the museum through a rear window, officers said. Three showcases containing the gems were smashed.

Three Tested For TB Prove To Be Positive

Three tested for tuberculosis in the West Marin School District Monday had positive reactions, the Marin County Tuberculosis and Health Assn. disclosed today.

In a report to the Independent-Journal yesterday, the association reported only one positive reaction from the check, leaving out the fact that two adults also showed positive results.

Yesterday's report also said the one pupil having a positive reaction was from the Point Reyes School District. The girl actually attends West Marin School and is a resident of Point Reyes.

One of the adults having a positive reaction was Supt. Howard E. Brose. He has shown positive in earlier tests and consequently has regular medical checks, the association said.

A positive reaction to the skin test means only that a person has been exposed to tuberculosis sometime during his life. It does not mean that he has the disease. However, it indicates a need for further testing.

Two other adults, known positive reactors from past tests, did not participate in Monday's testing. They are already required to have annual tests, the association reported.

There were 15 pupils who did not participate because they recently were tested.

Checks on all but three of the 270 pupils tested have been made. The three were absent at the time of the checks yesterday.

Ord Matresses Cause Complaint

plaints were filed today by the attorney general's office against two Northern California sterilizing plants that allegedly sold surplus mattresses from meningitis-plagued Fort Ord.

The complaints, filed on behalf of the State Bureau of Furniture and Bedding, named as defendants the California Sterilizing Plant of Oakland and the Stockton Mattress and Sterilizing Co. of Stockton.

Frank C. Freer, chief of the state bureau, said the companies have 10 days to respond and that their licenses have not yet been suspended.

71 Dozen Eggs Stolen At Dairy

Gayle Lamott of 90 Trish Drive, Novato, noticed doors of several trucks were open when he reported for work at 12:15 a.m. today. Further investigation revealed that 852 eggs were missing.

"MR. CLAUSEN'S CONSERVATION RECORD IS EXEMPLARY."

We here present a letter that is self explanatory*

October 27, 1964

Committee to re-elect
Congressman Don Clausen
and Independent-Journal
San Rafael, California

Gentlemen:

Some weeks ago I lent my name and support to an organization known as Conservationists for McCabe.

This organization has recently sent out letters setting forth McCabe's conservation position but unfortunately implying that the incumbent, Don Clausen, has failed in his conservation responsibilities to the First District.

Anyone who has followed the progress of conservation legislation in the 88th Congress should know that Mr. Clausen's conservation record is exemplary. While I do vigorously support Mr. McCabe's positive stand on the several conservation issues outlined in his letter, I cannot endorse the statement that "the incumbent Congressman has shown no such concern for conservation."

Anyone who is familiar with Mr. Clausen's statement before the House of Representatives in support of the Wilderness Bill knows that Mr. Clausen is a good conservationist.

Yours truly,

Robert Golden

Medics Replace Dog Heart; Puppy Living Healthy Life

NEW YORK (AP)—A medical team has taken a giant step toward the day when surgeons may replace an ailing human heart with one taken from a dead person.

The team reports that a mongrel puppy which received a heart transplanted from another, unrelated dog is still alive and "very active" six months later—a record.

The doctors named her Eterna.

"As her name might imply, she's expected to have a normal life expectancy," according to leader of the medical team, Dr. Adrian Kantrowitz, director of surgical services at Maimonides Hospital in Brooklyn.

Eterna was five or six weeks old when she underwent the transplant last April 24 at the hospital's Edward Neimeth Institute for Medical Research.

"She's kind of a pet around here," Dr. Kantrowitz said yesterday. "She has the freedom of the institute and romps around as she pleases, except at night when she's kept in a special room."

The team also reported that it is working on a way to store the surgically removed heart of a dog for more than 24 hours.

The technique is not perfected, Dr. Kantrowitz said, but it does portend a start toward the development of human "heart banks" for cardiac patients.

The reserve grand champion was an 870-pound Hereford, entered by the University of Arizona at Tucson.

Tonight's program will be highlighted by an international milking contest. The present world champion, Bernard Souza of Stevinson, Calif., is being challenged by Shuichi Suzuki, a dairyman from Shiga, Japan.

Talk Of Steel Price Hike Dies After Word From LBJ

But the question remained: Was it a pre-election lull on the part of steel leaders who have warmly argued for a boost recently, or has the president—plus glowing profit reports — given them enduring pause?

The Johnson point that steel profits, anemic two years ago, now are swelling rapidly was underscored yesterday when Bethlehem Steel Corp., the No. 2 producer, reported that July-September earnings had jumped 105 per cent from a year earlier, rising to 36.3 million dollars or 76 cents a common share.

For the first nine months of this year profits climbed 58 per cent to $104,928,160, a seven-year high for such a period and more than the company earned in all of 1963.

Even so, Edmund F. Martin, Bethlehem chairman, said the nine-month margin—a 6.3 per cent return on sales and 7.8 per cent on invested capital—wasn't good enough.

"If we were satisfied, I would hope somebody would fire me," Martin told newsmen.

This was roughly what several other steel company executives have been saying.

Martin refused to say anything about prices, even why he wouldn't discuss them. Three months ago he indicated support for higher prices.

"WHO ARE YOU VOTING FOR, JIM?"

"I'M VOTING FOR VERA SCHULTZ, SHE'S AGAINST PROPOSITION 14!"

"SO AM I. HER OPPONENT McCARTHY VOTED AGAINST RUMFORD FAIR HOUSING."

"I'm surprised he voted at all. I heard that he seldom showed up at the Senate Meetings."

"That's not quite right, Jim. He does show up but he has a bad attendance record. Of the forty State Senators, he was sixth from the bottom last year. And he was absent because of 'personal business' more than any other Senator."

"No kidding? And he's representing Marin! How does he get anything done for us?"

"Well, he doesn't. Of the 1631 bills introduced at the last session by State Senators, only two of McCarthy's became law."

"Were they important?"

"One extended a franchise to lease cabins at the foot of Steep Ravine, and the other permits certain commercial vehicles to detour from their prescribed routes in order to comply with local traffic regulations."

"Say, that's just great! How does he stand on Gopher Abatement and Falling Leaf Control."

"You can joke if you want to, but this is an important office in the state."

"I know it is, that's why I'm having trouble believing what you've just told me. How does he feel about Education?"

"McCarthy was one of three Senators who killed the Board of Education's request for new textbooks for California Children. Top scholars made a five year study of textbook needs before making the request."

"Why would they do that? My own kids' books are outdated and getting worn."

"Search me, but I think they helped save the state enough money to build a mile or so of freeway. The San Francisco newspaper said that McCarthy has the gubernatorial itch and many other interests, and that Public School Education, unfortunately, was not one of them."

"Other interests! I'd rather have someone on the job full time. Can we count on Vera Schultz?"

"You sure can. All of her interest and time will go for the job. And she'll get things done, too."

"Vera Schultz was a County Supervisor, wasn't she?"

"Right. Two terms. And she was a leader in creating and establishing Marin's County Administrator form of government; the Office of County Counsel; the Department of Public Works; Marin City Redevelopment; the Civic Center; the Richardson Bay Master Plan; the Parks and Recreation Commission; Flood Control Districts; the..."

"Wait a minute! Slow down. How can one person do all of that?"

"That's just the beginning. Vera Schultz is active in the Conservation League, the Council for Civic Affairs, the Bay Area Welfare Planning Federation, League of Women Voters, the Senior..."

"Stop, You've convinced me."

"Vera Schultz helped establish the county's Public Health Department, the County School for Handicapped Children, Family Service Organization, Mental Health Program, Juvenile..."

Good Grief! She probably hasn't slept in ten years."

"Vera Schultz has been working for Marin for more then twenty years. You can do a lot in that time."

"If you care about Marin."

"You mean, if you care more about Marin than about other things."

"Y'know, I'm glad she's running for the State Senate. It's time for a change."

Novato Gets Engineering Assistant

Robert Bolick of 11 Alice Street, San Rafael, last night was named engineering assistant to the Novato Sanitary District.

Bollic, 28, who is a graduate of the College of Marin, will receive a starting salary of $584 per month. He has worked for a year and one-half with the State Division of Highways and the same length of time for the City of San Anselmo. He is married and has one child.

The sanitary district board approved annexation of a lot owned by Harold McCormick on Wilson Avenue between Center and Vineyard roads.

It set its first November meeting for next Tuesday, election day.

Trujillo Kidnap Plot Revealed

MADRID (UPI)—An alleged unsuccessful plot to kidnap Ramfis Trujillo, son of the late Dominican Republic dictator, was disclosed today.

It also was disclosed that a minor employee of the Dominican Embassy here was held by Spanish police for two days in connection with the alleged plot.

Dominican Ambassador to Spain Eduardo Antonio Garcia Vasquez identified the employee as Miguel Bissie. The ambassador said Bissie was "an employee with no specific function in the embassy." He added that Bissie was returned to Santo Domingo shortly after he was released by Spanish police Oct. 16.

Fastest Growing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The California Department of Industrial Relations said today that Orange County has been "the state's fastest growing area in terms of nonagricultural employment during the past six years."

Marin Youth Jailed In Mississippi —Lights Freedom Rally Lamp

Fred B. Winn, 20-year-old Sausalitan and former College of Marin student, was jailed last night in Indianola, Miss., for violating a safety law at a rally for President Lyndon B. Johnson and Freedom Democratic Party candidates.

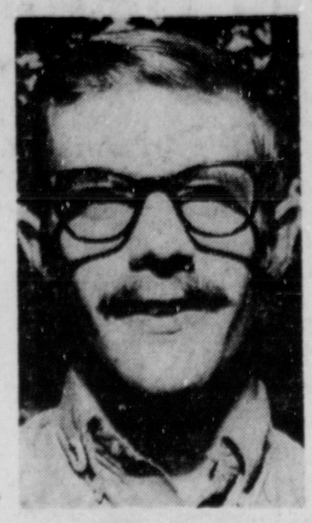
His father, Fred R. Winn, a San Francisco attorney, said he wired $100 bail money for the youth's release today.

Arrested with young Winn was another California worker for the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, George Winter, 23, of Ione, Amador County.

Winn Sr. said committee coworkers in Indianola told him the two had been jailed for relighting a kerosene lamp at the outdoor rally.

Lamps were in use, he related, because on Tuesday night a fire started in the Freedom School building operated by SNCC destroyed the electrical circuits.

The SNCC maintains a Freedom House and Freedom School in Indianola. About 11 workers live at the Freedom House.



FRED B. WINN
He lit a lantern

The Freedom School is used for meetings and for citizenship instruction.

Tuesday night, Winn Sr. was told, tear gas was shot into the Freedom House, injuring one youth. Co-workers took the injured youth to the Freedom School, where first aid equipment was kept, and found a fire in the building. Police and firemen were watching it burn, they claimed.

The youths started to try to put out the blaze, and were ordered away by police. Firemen then quenched it. Only some supplies and books in the office were burned, but the electrical circuits were ruined.

Last night's rally, scheduled indoors, was therefore moved outdoors in front of the school, with kerosene lanterns to light the speakers' platform.

Police arrived and ordered the lanterns extinguished, as Mississippi has a law against using kerosene lanterns where a crowd is congregated. Winn and Winter re-lit them and were arrested.

The Freedom Democratic Party is the party which attempted without success to seat its delegates, mostly Negroes, at the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City. It has nominated its own slate of candidates for Congress, although their names do not appear on the official ballots in Mississippi.

Where county registrars have refused to register Negroes to vote, the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee has registered them itself and will conduct its own election—with the Freedom Democratic Party candidates on the ballot along with Republicans and regular Democrats. It will then try to seat the winners in the United States Congress, Winn explained.

Two Intoxicated Drivers Get Fines

Two men were fined yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

William Matthew Langley, 39, Forest Knolls, was fined $166. He was arrested Oct. 18 by San Rafael police. Donald R. Thingelstad, 38, of Anaheim, Orange County, was fined $220. He was arrested last Saturday by California Highway Patrol on Highway 101.

Novatan Arrested On Felony Count

Louis Henry Klapperich, 38, secretly indicted by Marin County Grand Jury Wednesday, was arrested yesterday by district attorney's officers on felony counts of committing lewd acts upon two 8-year-old Novato girls.

Officers said Klapperich, of 5 Nave Court, Novato, allegedly committed the crimes at his home Sept. 8. He was held in Marin County Jail today in lieu of $2,750 bail.

WRONG TIME TO DRIVE WRONG WAY

You wouldn't believe it.

Neither could San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa. With his total complement of 47 men and women officers lined on both sides of Julia Street in front of headquarters for an annual uniform inspection today, a motorist drove into the one-way street the wrong way.

The driver also wanted to park in a red zone—all this within 15 feet of the end of the police formation. Chief Chiesa shook his head in disbelief, then whistled the driver back onto A Street.

Rain Just Can't Dampen College Of Marin Spirit

Rain couldn't dampen the spirits of College of Marin students at Homecoming Week activities yesterday—but it soaked frosh-soph tug-of-war participants with mud and caused two events to be canceled.

It also caused postponement of a scheduled parade of decorated cars until 5 p.m. today, when the sun is expected to be shining.

Things got into high gear as students at the Kentfield campus revved up for the homecoming football game at 8 p.m. today with Napa Junior College.

The Committee, nightclub entertainers most of whom live in Marin, was featured in a spirit rally in Olney Hall, where the downpour could not reach.

Then came the tug-of-war. In past years, each class has stood on one side of Corte Madera Creek and tried to pull the other through its water. But there was too much water everywhere, so the tug was held behind the new gymnasium. There was less water there than in the creek, but more mud.

A chariot race was also canceled.

One change was made in tonight's schedule. The homecoming queen, whose identity is being held secret until the coronation, will be crowned at a dance in the gymnasium following the game, instead of during the game's halftime intermission.

Collegians hoped today's sunshine wiii put the field in condition so the ballplayers won't wind up as muddy as the tug-of-war participants did.

AN OPEN LETTER TO APARTMENT HOUSE TENANTS

Dear Tenant:

As the manager of the apartment house in which you make your home, I am sometimes called the landlady. My job calls for real tact and the kind of intuition that amounts to a sixth sense about people.

I constantly carry a deep feeling of responsibility for your safety and welfare. Sometimes I feel that in a small way I am like the captain of a little ship.

Keeping the books here and maintaining the property are simple tasks compared to the real job of selecting tenants who will be compatible and who will reside in reasonable happiness with you and our other tenants within the confines of apartment living.

Every day I must make quick decisions to the best of my ability and conscience in order to protect the reputation of our apartment house and assure your continued safety and welfare.

Some apartment house managers prefer older people as tenants. Some want younger people. Some welcome families with children. Some prefer adults only.

But NEVER do we want noisy people, untidy people, quarrelsome people of any race, creed or color.

Yes, we apartment house managers need to know how to "size up" people. We must discriminate every day of our lives in the selection of tenants, usually on the basis of the applicant's appearance and the intuitions we develop through years of experience.

As a result, I have the satisfaction of knowing that you can live here today in peace and comfort—and without fear!

But what about tomorrow? How can I maintain this peaceful and harmonious atmosphere if my screening process and instincts can be nullified by law on the alleged basis that I am discriminating because of race, color or creed?

How can I prove that my discrimination is based ONLY on individual lack of desirability as a tenant, NOT on race, or color, or creed? If I can't prove it, then I am subject to action by the FEPC!

Many people do not understand this problem. They believe that questions of discrimination relate only to Negros and Whites, to matters of race, color or creed. But they are mistaken.

Thanks to the discriminating judgment of apartment house managers in the screening of tenants, tens of thousands of apartment dwellers live today, as you do, in safety and security.

Nothing should be allowed to destroy this process. That's why I am urging you, with my other tenants and friends, to VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION 14, November 3.

Sincerely yours,
Your Landlady

Murphy Jabs Once Again At 'Intruder'

George Murphy, Republican candidate for U.S. Senate, took another swing at Sen. Pierre Salinger at a San Rafael luncheon yesterday.

A crowd of about 350 jammed Dominic's Restaurant to hear Murphy refer to Salinger as "an oversized fraud" and an "arrogant intruder" who was "sent in here on speculation" and "is obligated to Eastern interests."

Richard Herndon, co-chairman for the Murphy campaign in Marin, was luncheon chairman. State Sen. John F. McCarthy introduced Murphy.

Murphy insisted that Salinger, because of his residency in Virginia, was illegally appointed to the U.S. Senate by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Murphy then outlined proposals he has made during the campaign. Among them is extension of the Bracero program to harvest California crops, desalinization of ocean water as the eventual solution to the water problem, and the need to keep defense contracts for California industries to save the jobs of workers.

The former actor, now a Hollywood executive, charged the Democratic administration with "managing the news" and tossing fiscal responsibility "out the window."

Referring to Vietnam, Murphy said: "Nobody knows what our foreign policy is."

He said he opposes the administration's "appeasement" policies and "unilateral disarmament."

Murphy called Salinger a "rubber stamp" for voting for reapportionment of the state legislature. Murphy said he opposes reapportionment.

Crosswalk May Soon Ease School Access

Pupil access to Gallinas School, a long-standing, dangerous and sometimes a slippery problem, may be eased soon by shifting a crosswalk.

But the move is not the solution parents were seeking. Through the Gallinas Parent-Teacher Assn., with support of the San Rafael city schools and the administration of Church of the Blessed Sacrament School, a request was made for a stop sign at Meadow Drive and San Pedro Road.

The county public works department yesterday turned down the request, saying such a sign would come too soon after a curve north of the intersection and would be a hazard. The department said, however, that the crossing could be moved further south to give more space between it and the curve.

What scares parents is that they contributed some time ago to the purchase of a warning sign to stand in the crosswalk during opening and closing of school. The sign has been hit several times by autos.

"We want some action before someone gets killed," declared Mrs. Leo James Berne of 20 Meriam Avenue, Santa Venetia. She is president of the Gallinas P-TA.

Mrs. Berne said parents in the Northbridge area of Santa Venetia are forced to drive their children to school when it rains because San Pedro Road is too dangerous and the path leading from the north end of Mark Twain Avenue to the school turns into a muddy mess in the rain.

Schools Supt. Bert C. Corona said today that the path problem will be solved early next year with construction of a paved, limited access road from Mark Twain Avenue into the school yard. Plans also include a fence along the north side of the school property to keep pupils from getting to the Gallinas Canal north of the property.

On the Job

WHEN A SESSION of Congress runs into the election campaign season, an incumbent faces a choice that is not particularly happy.

He can remain in Washington, getting back home to campaign only when no sessions are scheduled—or he can hit the campaign trail, returning to Washington to cast his vote only on one or two major matters.

He explained why in his remarks to the House on pending legislation to correct the Supreme Court ruling on state legislatures that would have the effect of giving three Southern California counties control of both houses of the California legislature.

"I AM PERFECTLY willing to remain here in Washington, despite any detriment to my efforts for re-election, until Christmas Eve, as we did last year, if necessary, in order to obtain action to withhold the Court decision," Mr. Clausen said.

Most residents of the Redwood Empire will agree with their Congressman that the matter is of vital importance to them. He pointed out:

"The plea of the liberals for one man, one vote is high sounding and desirable on its face. But in practice it means that three counties of Southern California would dominate the entire State of California and the development of its resources. How could the counties of origin guarantee enough of their water resources for future use if both houses of the legislature are controlled by Southern California . . . While I want, and seek a change in the Supreme Court ruling, I certainly do not want to go all the way in the other direction and permit rural domination of some of our states. That permits head-in-the-sand ultraconservatism to prevail, resulting in a lack of development and progress."

TO MY CONSTITUENTS:

The above editorial explains -- and I hope excuses -- my absence from the District during most of this election campaign. This session of Congress has been unique in our Nation's history . . . a great and rewarding experience for your first-term Congressman. I thank all of you for your co-operation in making my service fully effective during these past two years.

Because of the late adjournment of Congress, my hopes to meet most of you personally cannot be fulfilled. It is physically impossible to visit with 607,000 people in the thirty days of campaign time available to me. The fact that I must continue my actual congressional duties in the District during this period further reduces the number of public appearances and speaking engagements that I can accept.

My record must largely speak for me. I am proud of this record and I hope you will carefully read the brochure you have received that documents my activities in the 88th Congress.

As you did in 1960, I trust that you will again cut through the political propaganda that is always designed to confuse or create doubt. My record testifies that I have been constructive and objective in serving you.

I am not against anyone. I am for the Redwood Empire. This is truly God's country. We must continue to "co-operate for progress."

Business Course Overhaul Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Committee for Economic Development says the nation's 600 colleges and universities offering business courses should overhaul their programs to give future businessmen a broader education.

The committee, a nonprofit, nonpolitical group of 200 businessmen and educators, said in a report issued yesterday:

"There is a danger that American education is becoming a routine process, capable of producing reasonably efficient technicians and specialists, but not nearly good enough at developing people with the depth, drive, imagination, creativity and character that our society most requires."

Quarterly Dividend

OAKLAND—Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp. directors have declared a quarterly dividend of 22½ cents per share on the corporation's common stock. The dividend is payable Nov. 30 to stockholders of record Nov. 17.

Standard Sets Record

CHICAGO — Standard Oil Co., (Indiana) consolidated net earnings for the first nine months of 1964 were a record 148.3 million dollars compared with 140.2 million for the 1963 period, president John E. Swearingen has reported.

Editor, Chairman Fired By Curtis

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Board of Directors of the Curtis Publishing Co. today fired Clay Blair Jr., editor in chief, and Marvin D. Cantor, chairman of the magazine division.

Blair and Kantor, both senior vice presidents, led a rebellion against Matthew J. Culligan, who resigned last week as president of the firm.

Culligan, however, remained as chairman of the board.

This was the latest action in a management controversy that has shaken the already financially torn company.

Funeral Home Has Open House

Open house for the new Chapel of Marin mortuary began today, and will continue through Sunday at 1801 Novato Boulevard, Novato, according to Norwood H. Arnold, president and funeral director. Hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The Spanish style building is at the end of Grant Avenue. The main chapel will seat more than 200 people. There is parking for more than 50 cars in the rear.

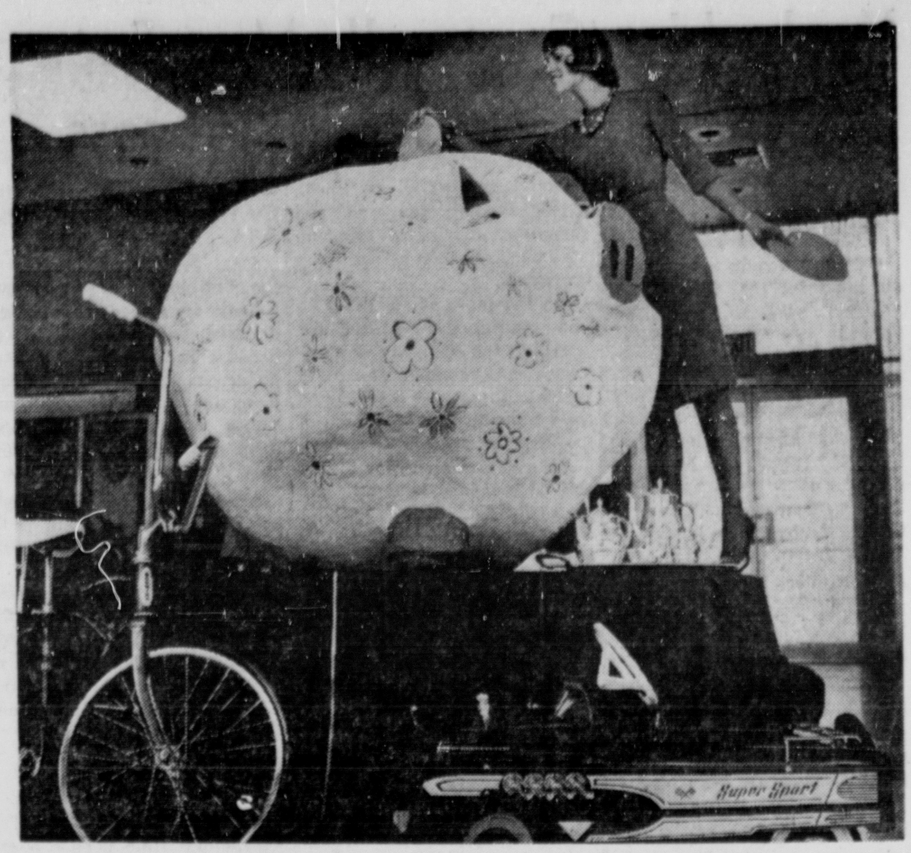
Arnold has been employed at Carew and English in San Francisco for the past 24 years. His last position was that of manager.



A GLUTTON FOR SMALL CHANGE

This oversized porker created by Gwen Stone and Karl Barron for Ross Valley Savings and Loan Assn. receives tickets from teller Mrs. Richard Raines for hundreds of piggy bank contributors during a month-long drive for urgently needed small change. By this weekend, loan officials hope to report $7,000 redeemed in nickels, dimes and quarters. Winning names will be drawn Monday for three prizes: Silver tea service, bicycle and pedal car.

Cal-UCLA: Quite A Show Expected

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—California's ears go into Saturday's game against UCLA with no major injuries except badly bruised feelings.

The Bears, attempting to ascend the collegiate football heap under first-year Coach Ray Willsey, had their most important victory all but tucked away last Saturday before Southern Cal rallied in the last two minutes to win 26-21.

For UCLA, on the other hand, the clash at Berkeley represents a return to familiar sod after a winless, three-game road trip.

The Bruins carried a 3-0 record into the road trip and came back 3-3, yielding a total of 89 points while scoring only 7 against Syracuse, Notre Dame and Illinois.

But UCLA's Rose Bowl hopes are still alive. In their only Pacific Athletic Conference outing to date, the Bruins beat Stanford 27-20.

The offenses of both teams revolve around the pass, with Craig Morton pitching for Cal and Larry Zeno for UCLA.

Morton currently ranks as the nation's second leading passer with 99 completions in 162 attempts for 1,177 yards and nine touchdowns. He also ranks fourth nationally in total offense.

Fullback Tom Relles and halfback Tom Blanchfield are the principal Bear ball carriers, and Blanchfield also does the kicking for Cal.

Zeno, like Morton a senior quarterback, currently is closing in on the UCLA career pass completion record held by the great Bob Waterfield. He has completed 155 tosses, including 56 of 114 this year for 734 yards and eight touchdowns.

Zeno also is the leading Bruin runner and kicks extra points and field goals.

At least four Northern Californians will be in the Uclan starting lineup. They are right tackle and captain Kent Francisco of San Rafael, center Prentice O'Leary of Santa Rosa, guard Russ Banducci of Atherton and defensive end Jim Colletto of Monterey.

The kickoff is scheduled for 1:30 p. m. at Memorial Stadium.

Mets Reportedly Want Yogi But He Stays Mum

MONTCLAIR, N.J. (AP) — Golfer Yogi Berra will likely have something to say after a vacation about the latest development in his baseball career.

The ex-manager of the New York Yankees was reached at his home by telephone Thursday night on the eve of his departure his home by telephone last night on the eve of his departure for a 10-day golfing holiday at Pinehurst, N.C.

"What about this New York Mets business, Yogi?" he was asked.

A brief pause followed, punctuated by what sounded like the rattle of golf clubs from the Berra end of the line.

"We understand," the questioner continued, "that Mets President George Weiss wants you in his organiation, that he considers you 'A man with a great deal of baseball knowledge and popularity.'"

"Yeah, we talked," said Berra. He referred to a meeting Wednesday with Weiss in New York City.

"And what did you say?".

"I said I'm going to think about it."

"Think about what? What did he offer you?"

"Well, I don't have anything to say now."

Berra was equally uncommunicative after he was fired as manager of the Yanks on Oct. 16. The Yanks had won the American League pennant, then lost the World Series to the St. Louis Cardinals in seven games. Berra was offered a two-year contract as a special field consultant to General Manager Ralph Houk, but no contract was signed.

In New York yesterday, Weiss said there has been "no concrete discussion of any type of job he might be interested in." But Weiss said he wanted Berra and understood that he was a free agent.

The job, Weiss said, would be up to Casey Stengel, the Mets manager and the erstwhile manager of the Yankees when Berra was the Yanks' star catcher. Weiss said he will see Stengel in California after attending a meeting of major league executives next week in Phoenix.

"Will you have something to say after your vacation?", Berra was asked last night.

"Yeah, I might. It'll give me time to think."

49ers' Floyd Dean Is Ready To Play

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—Linebacker Floyd Dean, who has never made a tackle in a league game in two years as a San Francisco 49er, will be ready to play Sunday at Baltimore.

The 49ers yesterday activated Dean, who has never played linebacker for the Prospectors and has only had about a week of practice at the position.

Dean suffered a knee injury in his first exhibition game in 1962. Then came two rough years during which he underwent knee surgery and kept up his strength with weight lifting and isometrics.

The 49ers have never cut the 235-pounder from Florida because they appreciate his terrific strength.

It is unlikely Dean will play Sunday or much in any other upcoming 49er game this season. He was drafted as an end and has had little practice at linebacker—one of the toughest spots in the pro ranks to learn. But wait until next year.

Meanwhile, coach Jack Christiansen said there would be no changes in the San Francisco lineup for Sunday's Baltimore game, except that Abe Woodson may replace wingback Ben Scotti, who has a minor ankle sprain.

WEST COAST FOOTBALL

Run For Roses To Start In Earnest

By DEREK SCHOEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Two strong passing teams will take on clubs that favor the overland route tomorrow as the Pacific Coast's annual run for the Rose Bowl begins in earnest.

In the principal battles, Stanford journeys to Portland to take on undefeated Oregon while Washington goes south to test Southern California.

Other conference contests pit UCLA against California and Oregon State versus Washington State.

Sanford and Washington—each of whom has had trouble stopping the pass this season — are rated underdogs Saturday.

The Indians, who last week were belted 28-6 by Notre Dame, must stop Oregon's strong armed Bob Berry. That's a sizeable task, as shown by Berry's third place ranking among the nations total offense leaders.

Halfback Ray Handley, third in the nation in rushing, poses the biggest threat to ending Oregon's 1964 victory string at six.

Washington, possessor of one of the conference's most porous pass defenses, also will have its work cut out trying to contain Craig Fertig of Southern Cal. Fertig passed for four touchdowns and 371 yards last weekend in Troy's comback victory over Cal.

The Huskies, pre-season favorites for the loop crown, also are having offensive troubles. They have scored just 14 points in their last two games, defeating Stanford 7-0 and losing by the same margin to Oregon.

Morton ranks second among the nation's passers with 1,117 yards and nine touchdowns while Zeno is ninth in total offense and has passed for eight tallies. The Bruins are coming off a rugged road trip that found them losing to Syracuse, Notre Dame and Illinois.

Oregon State, possessor of a fine 5-1 overall record and 31-13 upset victory over Syracuse last Saturday, are heavy favorites to beat Washington State in the second conference outing for both.

The Beavers have won five straight since an opening game 3-0 loss to Northwestern, while Washington State is 3-3, losing 28-13 last week to Idaho.

Despite their luckluster record the Cougars boast one of the coast's finest runners in Clancy Williams, whose average of 7.2 yards per carry is the loop's best.

University of the Pacific, bombed 37-13 by San Jose State in its last outing, faces another rugged opponent when Idaho visits Stockton for a Saturday night contest.

The Vandals have only a 2-4 record, but defeated San Jose 3-0 early in the season. Pacific has dropped five straight since beating Montana in the season opener.

ST. HELENA PREP GRIDDERS ROLL ON

ST. HELENA, Calif. (AP) — Back on Nov. 14, 1959, the St. Helena High School football team lost 24-7 to Fort Bragg.

The date is noteworthy, because St. Helena hasn't lost since.

The team, known as the Saints, currently boasts a 42-game victory string that includes six triumphs so far this season.

As might be expected, the team and Coach George Davis are lionized by the 3,000 inhabitants of St. Helena, a community snuggled in the center of Northern California's wine-producing Napa Valley.

In addition to their win streak, the Saints also boast another distinction — their star offensive end is the grandson of Earl Warren, chief justice of the United States.

Jeff Warren, whose father, James, is a St. Helena realty man, is 6-1½ and weighs 180. A junior, he's considered an outstanding college football prospect by his coach.

Davis, who has coached the Saints throughout their win string, reciprocates the praise he draws from St. Helena's citizens by crediting the community with his team's success.

"Believe me, no coach ever landed in a better spot," says Davis, who starred as a halfback and linebacker at Southern Cal in 1947-49.

From just about the time youngsters in St. Helena are able to run, Davis explains, a full-scale football program is available to them.

The community-wide program, which also includes other sports, was started some years ago by a retired business man named Al Carpy. He provided the financing and was the original program director.

Carpy died several years ago, but the program lived on. It involves most of the town's adults, as well as nearly all the youngsters, in organized football, baseball and boxing.

St. Helena's victory string will be on the line tomorrow when the team takes on arch-rival Willits High, which has a 13-game win streak of its own.

Coach Davis is unconcerned.

"We may lose a winning streak, but we won't lose the most important thing — a real community spirit and interest in kids," he says.

CRYING FOUL ALREADY

Clay Wants The UN To Watch His Fight

By BOB HOOBING

BOSTON (AP) — Muhammad Ali, the former Cassius Clay, has invoked the scales, the art of Jack Johnson and a former clown prince of show biz for his heavyweight title defense against Sonny Liston. Now The Mouth says he'll summon the United Nations, too.

"I dreamed I went into the ring but I wasn't fighting Liston," Muhammad said. "I was fighting the whole world. And they were all whispering, 'Get him! Get him!' They were all out to get me.

"There's a lot of science to what I'm saying. I'm not as dumb as I look.

"If I lose it'll be a dirty loss, like the last time when Liston put that hot stuff on his gloves. But I'll have my army there, because I expect the referee, the crowd, the judges and the newspapermen to be with him. Everybody will be with him except those I know personally.

"All I want is justice, a clean fight. I'll have my private cameraman there taking pictures of Liston's corner, my corner, the crowd when I'm winning, the crowd when I'm losing, all the action everywhere.

"I'll have 15 people flown in from the United Nations, people from Asia and Africa and everywhere to observe if it's a clean fight. And I've been in contact with the presidents of other countries. This isn't only a fight, this is a big thing."

Asked to explain his accusations, he replied:

"I hear a lot of rumors. Well, not really rumors. You see, I have a nature for sensing out things and my nature tells me something is not right. But I'll be aware of it and I'll be ready. Tell the Bear he'll be watched closely, too."

Tommy Rawsom, Massachusetts boxing commissioner, reddened noticeably over the suggestion the ring officials would be against Muhammed.

"I'm not making no judgments or statements against no party," the champ replied. "I'm just letting you know in a way I got a bad feeling."

When he was here last month to sign for the Nov. 16 rematch, Clay looked paunchy and badly out of shape. He admits he weighed 240 at that time.

After boxing seven rounds and bringing his pre-fight total to 110 rounds yesterday, and looking sharper than the rumor mills had indicated, he said:

"Now I'm down to 215 and I might weigh 210 for the fight."

"He was a friend of Jack Johnson and has movies of him," the champion explained. "I studied those movies and learned a lot, including the anchor punch. I ain't saying what that is because I want to surprise Liston."

At his Plymouth, Mass., training camp Liston continued to concentrate on speed work. He boxed two rounds each with three different sparring partners. The last two rounds were with a newcomer, tall, lean Curtis Bruce. The latter's moves and Liston's reactions brought repeated applause from the crowd.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

TOKYO — Fighting Harada, 119¼, Japan, knocked out Katsutoshi Aoki, 120, Japan, 3.

A Boxer's Good Idea Backfires

The lanky journeyman middleweight from Miami tried out his theory of recuperation in his fight with Gordon Lott, a knockout artist from Savannah, Ga.

Simpson weighed 152, and Lott 153. They were billed for 10 rounds.

Between the first and second rounds, Simpson's seconds spread his robe on the canvas instead of bringing in the conventional stool. Simpson stretched out to rest.

He said a friend had read in a recreation journal that a doctor in the Midwest claimed 30 seconds of lying down had the recuperative power of four minutes sitting up.

"I tried it this week in the gym," Simpson said. "I went seven hard rounds and stretched out between rounds. It was great.

"There's something about fluid leaving your brain — or draining back into the brain."

Lott was making only his 10th professional ring appearance to Simpson's 80th. Lott didn't go for the lying down theory.

Thirty-six seconds into the second round he nailed Simpson with a hard left hook and the Miamian stretched out on the canvas — for the full count.

Simpson said before the fight he wanted to show the magazine to the boxing commission. He should have shown it to Lott.

Crucial Game Is Slated For Class C Cagers

Marin Catholic and Terra Linda high schools will clash in a big game of the Class C basketball race next Tuesday at 4 p.m. on the M.C. courts. Both teams have 8-1 records in Marin Athletic League play.

Marin won its game yesterday against Tamalpais, 52-30, with Rick Garms leading the way with 18 points. Chuck Huff had 10 for Tam.

In other MAL action, San Rafael downed Redwood 54-39 on the winners' court. Leading the Bullpups to their fourth win was Steve Durham with 25 points.

Baltimore Bullets Top L.A. Lakers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers sat uneasily atop their laurels in the National Basketball Association's Western Division today—slightly nerve-wracked that their laurels are wearing thin on the bottom.

The Baltimore Bullets extorted a 98-95 victory out of the Lakers last night, and there wasn't a dry eye in the house.

The Bullets came from behind late in the third quarter, when they trailed 65-63, to edge out the Lakers for the first victory in three games this season with Los Angeles.

The Baltimore win gives the Bullets a 3-5 season record, while the Lakers still lead the Western Division with 4-2, two jumps ahead of St. Louis at 2-2.

The Bullets had things pretty much their own way up to halftime, when they led 52-36, but then the Lakers came on like gangbusters in the final two quarters, momentarily snatching the lead.

Baltimore finally took the lead again in the final quarter when Bailey Howell sank an outside shot and put the Bullets ahead 92-90. Then Gus Johnson added two more points on a lay-up shot and it belonged to the Bullets after that.

For Los Angeles, Jerry West sank 28 points and Elgin Baylor scored 27. West scored 16 of his points in Los Angeles' third-period outburst.

But ball control errors in the final period by the Lakers enabled the Bullets, sparked by Bellamy, to pull ahead.

The Lakers will be idle until Sunday, when they meet the Hawks at the Sports Arena.

McKinley Wins Tennis Match

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — American tennis star Chuck McKinley of San Antonio dropped the first set but bounced back to whip Argentina's Raul Peralta in the opening round of the Argentine National Championships 5-7, 6-3, 6-2, 6-1.

In doubles America's Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md. teamed with Yugoslavian Boro Jovancovic to defeat Korge Martinez and Julian Ganzabal of Argentina 6-2, 6-3, 9-7.

New Met Scouts

A Muddy Almaden Tourney

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — A field of 130 professionals was set to slosh through the opening round today of the $25,000 Almaden Open Golf Tournament after rain forced a one-day postponement.

The finals of the 72-hole tourney, originally set for Sunday, were rescheduled for Monday.

The pro-amateur portion of the tournament was rained out and each of the 50 pros who tried to compete was given $50 for getting wet.

Defending titlist Al Geiberger, British Open champ Tony Lema and U.S. Open champ Ken Venturi were on hand to test the Almaden Country Club course, which is par 36 each nine.

Drake Runners Win Two Meets

Drake's cross country team recently won two practice meets against Pacific Grove and El Dorado high schools.

The Pirates defeated Pacific Grove 26-29 and El Dorado, 15-49. Winning runner in both meets was Chester Judah with identical times of 10:34.

Harrison Is Leader For Senior Golf

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Big Dutch Harrison, who has made winning the National Senior Golf Championship a habit, led the field again in the 1964 tournament's third round.

Harrison fired a two-under par 70 yesterday to go with an opening day 68 and give him a 138 total after two rounds of the $35,000 National Senior Open Golf Tournament at Reno.

Winner of the tournament the past three years, Harrison established himself as the favorite this time out when pre-tourney favorite Jimmy Demaret fell behind at 141.

Two strokes behind Harrison at 140 was Al Feldman of Olympia, Wash., who carded a 69 yesterday. Tied with Demaret for third spot were Harry Umbinetti of North Bend, Wash., and Zell Eaton of Palm Springs, Calif.

First-day leader Bud Williamson of Lincoln, Neb., dropped into a four-way tie for fourth, with 142.

QUAIL SEASON WILL OPEN TOMORROW

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Hunting seasons for quail, chukars and tree squirrels begin tomorrow, while the curtain comes down on the statewide trout season.

The new hunting seasons will stay open until Jan. 3 in all but northeastern California where they will close Dec. 13.

Although the trout season will close in most of central and northern California, it will remain open with smaller limits in the southland.

The State Fish and Game Department predicts quail hunting will be "better than last year in some areas and as good as a year ago in others." The limit is 10 per day.

Chukar prospects, however, are "not as good as a year ago, due to poor nesting success." The limit is four per day.

STEVENS

Looks like old dame Nature has relented and sent along some prime waterfowl weather. Might be a good idea to have along with you in your blind, rubber boots and rainclothes, but if the weather continues as it has for the past 48 hours, the birds will be flying instead of rafting.

Which reminds me to remind you that, scheduled to open tomorrow were Gray Lodge, Colusa, Sutter, Delevan, Sacramento and Merced. Interested? Then you'd better be on the ball; get an application blank from your nearest license agent, fill it out and send it in. Be sure to ask for and study a Waterfowl Management area booklet.

IN CASE you don't know, you will have to ante up a fee of $3.50 per day on all management areas except Honey Lake where the fee is $3.50 per day but $6.50 permits you to hunt all season.

Advance reservations are necessary to shoot on all areas except Honey Lake, and Ramer Lake. On these two, hunting is on a first-come, first-served basis. You may hunt only on Saturdays, Sundays and Wednesdays except Ramer Lake which will be open to hunting every day of the week.

Tomorrow you may add quail, squirrels to your hunting list. Again I suggest that you obtain and study the 1964 hunting regulations.

ON SUNDAY the season opens for salmon and steelhead, but chances don't look too good because of the badly needed rains. Rain is good for ranchers and ducks, but when too heavy it is definitely not good for steelhead and salmon. The water in all the coastal streams becomes to murky for successful angling. There have been years in the past, when the rivers had returned to normal by the first of November, but usually one doesn't do himself any good with steelhead until the middle of December. The rains open the mouths of many coastal stream, and brings hundreds of steelies in. But, if the water is too badly colored, they don't bite.

Actually, our steelhead season—if we count only the days when we have clear (or streams that have a milky appearance, better yet) water with the mouths open. I question if we have more than 25-30 days of steelhead fishing a year. Another thing to remember is that the main runs of steelheads comes as a rule, only after the salmon have come in and have gone upstream to spawn.

IT'S DIFFICULT with a salmon. They come in, lay up for some time to become used to the increased oxygen in the water. Mainly these are silverside salmon, smaller than the kings, but very game on light tackle. It is possible to hook silvers when the water is not very clear. Trolling in the lagoon at the mouth of the Navarro, as well as the Russian, the mouth of the Noya or from the shore at the Garcia, Ten Mile, and many of the coastal streams all along the coast to the mouth of the Klamath and the Smith, is good. Not overlooking the south fork of the Eel might possibly pay off three days after a rain. So, whether your weapon is a shotgun, or a fishing rod, you should be happy that you live in California, don't you think?

Willie Mays hit 47 home runs this year to gain the National League homer title for the third time.

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Pittsburgh Steelers, who threw a monkey wrench into last season's battle for the National Football League's Eastern Division title, have an opportunity to scramble the race again this weekend—with an umbrella.

The Steelers, it will be remembered, parlayed three ties and seven victories into a shot at their first divisional crown last year despite a poor won-lost percentage, but bowed out with a loss to the New York Giants in the last game of the regular season.

Now they're bogged down at 3-4, but could throw the Eastern race into a tight struggle by beating Cleveland in one of the key games on the NFL schedule Sunday.

The Browns have a 5-1-1 record but their lone loss was to the Steelers, who got the job done with an effective 6-1-4 Umbrella Defense that stymied Cleveland.

While the Browns are trying to even the season series with the Steelers, second-place St. Louis, 4-2-1, will be at New York, and third-place Philadelphia, 4-3, at home to Washington.

The Baltimore Colts, leading the Western Division with a 6-1 record, could break the race open by downing San Francisco while Detroit and Los Angeles, tied for second with 4-2-1 records, are banging heads.

In other games, Green Bay and Chicago, the two Western favorites who have fallen almost to the bottom of the division, will try to get untracked against Minnesota and Dallas, respectively.

The American Football League gets underway tomorrow night with Boston at New York in a key Eastern Division game.

Sunday, the Buffalo Bills, only unbeaten and untied team in either league, will go for a perfect 8-0 record at Houston. Oakland is at San Diego and Denver at Kansas City.

The Steelers, in handling the Browns their only defeat, not only held Jimmy Brown to 27 yards rushing, but rolled up 354 yards on the ground themselves with John Henry Johnson getting 200. Johnson was held to 58 last week and the Steelers lost to Philadelphia.

Brown has gained 664 yards for the season and needs only 14 yards to become the first NFL player to gain 10,000 yards solely on the ground.

Paulie Armstead Wins Decision

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Paulie Armstead of San Francisco won a unanimous decision over Luis Molina of San Jose in their 10-round junior welterweight fight at Oakland Auditorium last night.

Armstead, ranked second in the lightweight division, had outpointed Molina earlier this year, also in the same ring.

Feature Winner

SAN MATEO (AP)—Easy Lime raced from last to first yesterday and captured the one mile $3,000 Juliet Prowse Purse for 2-year-olds by four lengths in sloppy weather at Bay Meadows.

Trojans Try For 8 In Row

Terra Linda goes after its eighth straight victory tonight when the Trojans meet San Rafael High School on the Bulldog field starting at 8 o'clock.

The Trojans, currently tied with Drake for the Marin Athletic League lead at 4-0, will be fielding a well balanced team built around quarterback Gary Lieberman. Coach Pete Limm feels Lieberman is one of the "best quarterbacks I've seen since coming to this school."

UNDECIDED

Limm is undecided about who will start in his offensive backfield. With Lieberman, the backfield can consist of John Clifford or Dave Bowman at left half, Tim Garvin at right half and Steve Frazzini or Jack Baken at fullback.

While Limm wants to keep everyone happy in playing, it has been a case of who is doing the job during the game. "Clifford and Frazzini were the stars against Redwood while Garvin came through against Novato and Tamalpais," the head Trojan coach said.

For coach Bob Muster of San Rafael, it will be a case of continuing the good fortunes of last week's game against Marin Catholic. The Bulldogs won that one, 33-0, and Muster feels his team can start to put the ball in the air.

JUNIOR QB

San Rafael has been plagued by not being able to pass and Muster is going with junior quarterback Jay Widmer, who will start his second game. Widmer's two top receivers are veterans Gary Palmateer and Bob Rich.

The Bulldogs' big problem has been inconsistency. "We've had two touchdowns called back because of penalties and this has been hurting us," Muster said in explaining his team's 1-2 league mark.

"If we can cut down on our mistakes, you can never tell what's going to happen. One thing for sure, our team will not roll over and play dead," the San Rafael coach commented.

Speedskating Champion Dies

TORONTO (AP) — Lot Roe, a speedskater whose 54-year-old speed record still stands, died here Wednesday. He was 83.

Roe, who won the Canadian and Ontario championships several times before the first World War, had won more than 150 medals for speedskating.

His time of 4 minutes and 10 seconds for 1½ miles, which he set in Pittsburgh, Pa. in 1910, still stands as a world mark.

Former Trainer Succumbs At 77

He won the Louisiana Derby in 1949 with Rockwood, in 1953 with Matagorda and in 1954 with Gigantic. The last horse of note he raced at the New Orleans Fair Grounds was Tenacious, winner of the Louisiana Handicap in 1958-1959 and the New Orleans Handicap, also in 1958-59.

Novato Vs. Tam Tomorrow

It will be a heavyweight Novato eleven meeting a lightweight Tamalpais team when the two kick-off tomorrow afternoon at Novato at 2 p.m.

The bigger Novato team, coming off a losing game to Drake, will be out to continue its offensive battle that coach Marlin Olsen expects will put this team in the school record books by the season end. Olsen feels that if this team can pick up its winning ways again, it can end up with a 7-2 mark for the season.

SCHOOL RECORD

The Hornets are also after the school record as the team that made the most offensive yards, and if Don Phillips continues his passing, Olsen feels he'll be near the school passing record.

Olsen fears the breakaway runners that Tamalpais has in its backfield. "In Alex Robertson and Steve Hewett, those Indians have as good a talent as any team in the league," the Novato coach exclaimed.

Coming back after being out a week will be fullback Ron Rowell. "Not only is Rowell a fine inside runner, but his blocking for halfback Dick Otis' runs and tackling as the middle linebacker is tremendous," Olsen said.

PASSING GAME

Tamalpais is expected to throw the ball with Randy Fontan doing the tossing to ends Ron Pedersen and Fred Hilton. Pedersen is feared around the league and if linemen such as Gary Cotton and Marty Anthony give Fontan the needed protection, the contest ought to be a wide open scoring affair.

Tam coach Pete Belden is quite high on Anthony. "He's the consistent figure in the line, both on offense and defense," the Indian coach commented.

This will be the first game for the Indians in two weeks, as they did not fill the league bye last week. "The rest was the best thing for this club. We're at full strength and really needed that rest," Belden said.

Redwood Will Battle Marin Catholic Team

Redwood tries to regain the winning way and Marin Catholic tries to score its first touchdown in 1964 league play when the two teams battle tomorrow afternoon at Kentfield.

Kickoff is 2 p.m. for the Marin Athletic League game.

The Giants, who lost last week to Terra Linda, are going on the passing arm of Scott Murphy and if ends Bill Kilcoyne and Terry Smith can hang on to the ball, it should be a complete Giant game.

However, Giant coach Bob Troppmann isn't taking Marin Catholic lightly. "Those Wildcats are ready to have a good game and we're treating them like any other team in the league," Tropp said in evaluating Marin.

The veteran Giant coach is experiencing only his second season in seven years at Redwood where his team has not been fighting for the championship. "It's just the breaks of the game. This year they've gone the other way," Troppmann said.

If Troppmann has a problem, just think what coach Chuck Vaughan is going through. After splitting two practice games, his Wildcat team has not scored one point against league opponents in four tilts.

Vaughan is high on his quarterback Bill Shine. "He's a good passer and if he got some protection the fans would really see some fine ball throwing," the Wildcat mentor said. Also the coach praised runner Lu Ercolini, "a real hard driver, who puts his head down when he gets the ball."

The Wildcats' big problem is an adequate supply of football players. Vaughan only has 12 players he can really count on and that figure dropped by one when defensive tackle Don Wharff broke his nose. He will be out for this game.

Tentative lineups:

Marin Catholic—le, Jim Tupper; lt, Steve Hebel; lg, Lou Lencioni; c, Rich Woodall; rg, Tom Bertrand; rt, Gary Wittenmeier; re, Larry Weiss; qb, Bill Shine; lh, Lu Ercolini; rh, John Grady; fb, George Weigand.

LSU Coach Wants Spirit

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Louisiana State Coach Charles McClendon was disappointed with his team's final workout yesterday for Mississippi.

"When we're getting ready to play Ole Miss, I would expect a more explosive performance from our squad," he said. "We barely got the job done."

McClendon said he hoped the Tigers would "get themselves ready to play by Saturday night. We know Ole Miss will be ready."

Marin College '11' Seeking Happy Homecoming Tonight

The College of Marin Tar footballers will try to make their homecoming a happy one tonight when they host the Napa Chiefs at 8 o'clock in the mud of Kentfield's stadium.

Napa is tied for the Golden Valley Conference lead with Santa Rosa, both teams with 2-0 records. Marin is 1-1 in conference play and 2-4 overall, boasting victories over Chico State's junior varsity and Yuba College. That latter win was last week's 13-7 triumph in conference play.

Tar head coach Dick Read is hoping his chargers put together two good halves tonight. He points out that the Tars played a good first half before falling to Sierra 20-6 on Oct. 17 and came back with a fine effort in the second half of last week's win over Yuba.

Three players came out of Wednesday's College of Marin scrimmage with injuries and are on the doubtful list. Wingback Craig Bond hurt his thumb; linebacker John Patrick injured a finger, and guard Gary Frugoli sprained an ankle.

Napa has a 5-1 record so far this season, its only loss being a 40-27 thing against Menlo College. That same Menlo team dumped the Tars 40-0 in the Mariners' opening game of the season on Sept. 18. In GVC action, Napa shut out Shasta 13-0 and downed Sierra 19-7, a team that beat Marin 20-6.

A special section in the College of Marin rooting section will be roped off for Marin alumni. College of Marin classes of 1939, 49, 54 and 59 will be honored at halftime ceremonies.

Tentative starting lineups for Marin tonight are:

Patriots Halfback On Injured List

HOW MANY DENTS ARE THERE IN YOUR PRESENT CAR??
Everyone knows it is almost impossible to keep a car free from body damage—whether it be the small dent in the fender or a major collision. Accidents do happen and with the crowded conditions of the streets and freeways here in Marin County, we get more than our share.
The major damages are usually repaired immediately, through insurance companies or because of the general operation and appearance of the car. However, it is the small dent or the series of small dents that often go neglected. It is true, one small dent won't affect the value or the operation of a car, but one neglected dent often leads to many. It is in cases such as this where the value of your car decreases, sometimes a hundred or more dollars. We see it every day, where a car in excellent mechanical condition is traded in at a greatly reduced price because its owner neglected to repair the small dents as they happen.
Your car is a necessity, an investment, something to be proud of and most important—of value to you. Treat it as such.

GIFT OF FISH MEANS LOSS OF POLICE PAY

Is a fish a gratuity?

Sausalito Police Chief Kenneth H. Huck ruled yesterday that two of his patrolmen should lose a day's pay after he found three striped bass in a cardboard box in back of a patrol car.

The fish had been given to Officers Tom Zink and Ernest Brown by a friend.

Said Huck: "I levied disciplinary action on Brown and Zink for accepting the fish as a gratuity and for transporting them around in the police car." He said he found the freshly caught fish in the back seat at 7:55 a.m.

The department has a rule that an officer may not receive a gift, reward or gratuity, said Huck.

Zink will lose $29.60 in compensatory time off and Brown, $28.18.

What happened to the fish?

"I will leave that up to their consciences," said the chief, "however they feel is right."

Hub Girl Knocked Down By Auto

A San Anselmo girl was knocked down and slightly injured last evening by a car which failed to stop, San Anselmo police said.

Cheryl McElmurray, 13, of 875 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard was attempting to cross Drake at Bella Vista Avenue at 5:30 p.m. when she was sideswiped by an east bound dark green Corvair convertible with a light colored vinyl top. The girl suffered a cut on the left knee and abrasions on the right knee, but walked home without treatment.

Brown Disagrees On Unruh Fund Handling

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has expressed some disagreement with Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh in the latter's sending out campaign contributions over his own name only but said he wasn't going to quarrel about it.

Brown said he had put Unruh in charge of the get-out-the-vote drive the money had been sent out. He said there was some dissatisfaction about the people to whom it was sent and that no other names were mentioned. "I thought it would have been better if he had mentioned some of the other people that assisted in the campaign," Brown said.

QUITO, Ecuador (UPI)—Development Minister Jose Corsino Cardenas, who came under fire this week because of alleged shortcomings in his performance in office, presented his resignation to the military junta last night. No successor was chosen immediately.

Man, 71, Is Killed By Car On Highway

PITTSBURG (AP) — Pomposo Tafoya, 71, was killed yesterday when hit by an automobile.

The highway patrol said he stepped from the edge of the road onto the highway and was hit by a car driven by James Robinson of Pittsburg.

Arrest Results In Haul Of Dope Stimulant Supply

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Law enforcement officers in San Francisco arrested a man last night and confiscated a suitcase containing 30 pounds of a narcotic stimulant they said was worth $681,000 if peddled illegally.

"This cuts off a major supply of this dangerous drug (Methedrine) to the Bay Area and to the entire state," said Matthew O'Connor, supervising agent of the State Narcotics Bureau in San Francisco.

Police said the man arrested with the drugs was Forrest F. Dyer, 24, of San Francisco.

"Thirty pounds is an unusually large seizure," O'Connor said. "Usually a half pound or a pound is considered a large haul." He said the arrest was made after weeks of investigation by the Federal Food and Drug Administration and Reno and San Francisco police.

Police said they arrested Dyer previously on Monday after they found 25,000 pills of various drugs in his bank safety deposit box. He was released later on $11,000 bond.

O'Connor said Methedrine is used in surgery to restore respiration, and is highly sought after by narcotics addicts.

Newspaper Marks Its 200th Year

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI)—The Hartford Courant, oldest newspaper in continuous publication in the United States, observed its 200th anniversary yesterday.

It was on Oct. 29, 1764 that the Courant's first publisher, Thomas Green, put out the first edition of the newspaper.

The anniversary was celebrated last night at a dinner attended by newspaper executives and friends of the Courant from across the country.

Pay Off

LONDON (UPI)—Margaret Karous today began paying off a $112 debt to a health club at the rate of 14 cents a month. Because she was induced to sign a contract when she was only 18, the court gave her 70 years to make the payments.

The Neil Cummins School Parent-Teacher Assn. in Corte Madera will sponsor a carnival at the school for kindergartners to sixth graders tonight. Children will assemble at 6:15 p.m. at Lakeside and Tamalpais Drives, the entrance to Madera Gardens subdivision, and will be led by the Redwood High School band and a Corte Madera fire truck to the school.

A Halloween masquerade and pizza party for adults will be held from 9 p.m. today to 1 a.m. tomorrow sponsored by the Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District.

The San Geronimo Valley Teen Club will hold its Halloween costume party for members and guests from 8 to 11 p.m. today at the Woodacre Improvement Club.

A UNICEF Halloween Playday will begin at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the amphitheater of the Ross Art and Garden Center. If it rains, the playday will be held at Ross School. Jack Hanson, who entertains children at "Jack's Place" daily on television station KPIX (Channel 5) will be master of ceremonies.

Mill Valley's city-sponsored Halloween contest and parade will begin at 7 p.m. at Lytton Square. Youngsters will march from the square to Throckmorton, East Blithedale and Sunnyside avenues and then back to the square, where prizes will be awarded for the best costumes.

The Novato Parks and Recreation Department will sponsor a "Spook Hollow Hop" for teenagers from 8:30 p.m. to midnight tomorrow at the Novato Community House.

A Halloween party for Greenbrae children will begin at 6 p.m. at La Cumbre and Eliseo ways with a parade of children in costume, led by Larkspur's new fire engine, to the Greenbrae Property Owners' Assn.

St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church will sponsor a "trick to treat" program for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund at 5:30 p.m. tomorrow. Children participating will meet at the Community Lounge, Marin City, see a movie, collect money for the fund, then see another movie and have ice cream, according to Rev. James E. Symons, pastor.

The San Rafael High School junior class will sponsor a "graveyard" dance tomorrow night in the high school gymnasium. Entertainment will be provided by Dolores Domino and the Classics.

Cat Shelter Hearing Is Continued

Hearing in Marin Municipal Court on a misdemeanor complaint alleging that Meow Meadows, a cat-boarding place at 330 School Lane in Black Point, has been operating without a permit was continued by Judge Leonard A. Thomas yesterday until 1:30 p.m. Nov. 12.

Hadden W. Roth, San Rafael attorney representing the establishment's operator, Cherie Weiss, requested the delay for additional time to prepare his case.

The charge, a violation of a county ordinance requiring a permit to operate a commercial animal establishment, was filed Oct. 8 and specifically alleges the offense occurred Aug. 15.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Donald E. Paterson said the complaint was filed by his office following receipt of complaints of abuse of the feline clients.

He said the permits are issued by Marin County Humane Society. The cat home has been operating about 10 years, according to the report.

Freezer Winner

Mrs. Harold O'Brien of 909 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, has won a new refrigerator-freezer combination in a contest sponsored by Westinghouse Electric Corp. Home builders participated in the contest by having model homes open to the public at which prospective home owners could deposit their contest entries.

Norman Thomas Talk Slated In San Rafael

Socialist leader Norman Thomas will discuss changes needed in American foreign policy to solve problems posed by communism and totalitarianism at the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael at 8 p.m. today.

Thomas ran for president on the Socialist ticket every election from 1928 to 1948. He is now co-chairman of Turn Toward Peace and chairman of the Post War World Council. Arthur Danforth of Corte Madera, a member of the council of the Peace Center of Marin, will also be on the program.

Getting Early Vote Result Is Unlikely

Getting the results of a precinct before the polls close Tuesday could happen in Marin, but it is highly unlikely.

First, everyone in the precinct would have to vote, and everyone would have to vote early. Best chance for such a thing happening is in the smaller precincts in North Marin.

Deputy County Clerk John Musser explained that an early count is possible before the 7 p.m. closing time only after 100 per cent have voted. That's how those early results come in from some New Hampshire villages at every election.

"It's never happened in Marin," Musser said, "and I think it's highly unlikely.

Even in the small districts such as Laguna and Fallon, there are men away at work who do not get back to their communities until near closing time for the polls, Musser said. And in the rural areas, many men leave home for ranch work before polls open.

School Open House

Marindale School, at 850 Del Ganado Road, Terra Linda, will hold an open house for Marinites from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Wenesday. Marindale School is a center for training orthopedically handicapped children of Marin County.

'No Jazz On 14' Rally Is Slated

"No Jazz on 14," a rally to gain support for a "No" vote on Proposition 14 in Tuesday's election, will be staged at 2 p.m. Sunday at 719 Drake Avenue, Marin City, by Oak Knolls of Marin.

Entertainers to appear at the rally include the John Handy Quintet of San Francisco; Hugh Romney of Marin City and fellow members of "The Committee"; Bob Dorough, Sausalito musician; poets and writers Lawrence Ferlinghetti and Kenneth Rexroth, both of San Francisco, and Jean Varda, Sausalito artist.

The rally is free and arrows will be placed to direct participants to it, according to Magda Cregg of Mill Valley, publicity chairman.

AND WINE IS KING

Visit Postponed

Visit of Per Haekkerup, Danish minister of foreign affairs, to Aldersly Danish Home in San Rafael Nov. 8 has been postponed until February, Peter Bognaes, manager of the home, announced today.

Warning System Gets Approval

A $5,829 general warning system was approved by Stinson Beach Fire Protection District commissioners Wednesday night.

The air horn system contract was awarded to J. Guilder Co. of San Rafael. The system is to be installed at the base of the present siren tower at the entrance to the state park, reported Mrs. Harriet M. Greene, assistant secretary.

The old siren, operated manually, will be kept in case of power failure. The new system, of which $2,766 of the cost is being paid for by the California Office of Civil Defense, will be tied in with civil defense warnings.

As such, he is not making any formal endorsement in the presidential campaign, but he has friendly words for President Lyndon B. Johnson and his running mate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey.

Salinger for the Senate

THE EXAMINER urges the election of Pierre Salinger, the Democratic candidate for the United States Senate.

We have a high regard for George Murphy, his Republican opponent. A capable man to begin with, Mr. Murphy has grown appreciably in stature in the course of this year of campaigning.

Mr. Salinger and Mr. Murphy equally deserve commendation for the way they have waged effective campaigns.

Two compelling reasons make us supporters of Mr. Salinger:

First, we believe strongly in the tradition that California's two Senatorships shall be divided between northern and southern California. The tradition is observed today with Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of southern California and Sen. Salinger, a native San Franciscan who replaced another northern Californian, the late Clair Engle. Mr. Murphy, like Sen. Kuchel, is from southern California.

The tradition is rooted in the fact that the two ends of the state, each larger than most whole states, have widely differing economic and cultural interests that deserve a direct voice in the United States Senate.

Preservation of the tradition becomes all the more important when it is remembered that absolute control of the State Legislature probably will soon pass to southern California under mandatory reapportionment.

If this senatorship should also go to southern California, then the Southland might well have complete domination of the people's representatives in both Washington and Sacramento. Northern California could become a colonial appendage.

Secondly we are convinced that Mr. Salinger, the experienced Democrat, would be more effective in advancing California's interests in Washington. It seems a virtual certainty that the Democratic Party will control Congress again. It is highly probable that a Democrat will continue to occupy the White House.

Mr. Salinger, as a member of the dominant party with an intimate knowledge of Washington and world affairs, can better serve both the nation and California.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Whys And Wherefores On State Propositions

Most of the 17 state propositions have been reviewed from time to time on these pages. Today we list all 17 propositions and two countywide measures, with brief comments and our recommendations.

PROPOSITIONS

1. State Beach, Park, Recreational, and Historical Facilities Bond Act of 1964. ($150 million). Marin is allocated $453,000. Also, the acquisition of Golden Gate Headlands State Park is conceivable. We urge a YES vote.

2. Bonds ($380 million) to Provide State College, Junior College and University Facilities, and to provide building funds for the care of mentally ill, narcotics control, correctional and fire fighting facilities. San Quentin construction would get $1,362,050, and College of Marin would be eligible for an amount to be determined by the Legislature (perhaps a million dollars). We urge YES.

3. State School Building Aid Bond Law of 1964. ($260 million). Continues program of state aid which began in 1947. Would aid "impoverished" school districts in site purchase and construction. We urge YES.

4. Veterans' Tax Exemption: Residency Requirement. All veterans now are eligible for exemption. A "yes" vote would limit eligibility to a veteran who was a resident when he entered the service or on the effective date of this amendment; veterans who enlist elsewhere and become California residents after the effective date of this amendment would be ineligible. But all vets and spouses getting exemptions now will continue to be eligible. We urge YES.

5. Veterans' Tax Exemption For Widows. A vet and his spouse may own property up to $10,000 (assessed value) and get exemption. But a veteran's widow is ineligible if she owns more than $5,000. A "yes" vote would extend the same tax exemption to a widow who owns up to $10,000. We urge YES.

6. Taxation: Retaliatory Tax On Out of State Insurers. A "yes" vote would amend the constitution so that California law will apply to insurers from other states in the same manner that 43 other states now apply their retaliatory laws to California's insurers. We urge YES.

7. Public Retirement Funds. A "yes" vote would allow portions of public pension or retirement funds to be invested in corporate stocks and bonds. Respected institutions have done so successfully for years. We urge YES.

8. Superior Court Judges: Election in Counties Over 700,000 Population. A "yes" vote would extend to larger counties the practice in Los Angeles, where unopposed judges' names are omitted from ballot. Nominal savings of a shortened ballot do not justify "bypassing" the electoral process. We recommend NO.

9. County Supervisorial District Boundaries. Courts have held that counties must reapportion supervisorial districts on as near equal population basis as possible. But charter counties are exempted from this ruling. A "yes" vote would have the law apply to charter counties as well. We urge YES.

10. State School Fund. This is a "perpetual fund" initiated in 1849, to support schools. The revenues come from sale of lands granted by the federal government to the states and from estates of those who die without will or heir. A "yes" vote would abolish the fund. Abolition of this fund will have little effect on the total amounts available for schools because most of the support comes from the general fund anyway. Eliminating the State School Fund simplifies accounting, in line with the trend away from multiplicity of special funds. We recommend YES.

11. Performance of Municipal Functions by County Officers. Many cities contract with the county to perform services like tax collection. A question has arisen, whether a public election is needed before each contract. A "yes" vote would make a public election unnecessary. We urge YES.

12. Property Taxation: Relief in Event of Disaster. A "yes" vote would give Legislature authority to provide (or authorize local agencies to provide) property tax relief for property damaged by an "act of God," when the Governor proclaims a "disaster area." This is discriminatory because a home in a "disaster area" would get relief whereas another home destroyed by fire elsewhere would not. The present system of passing special legislation for tax relief, as in the Crescent City tidal wave, should suffice. We recommend NO.

13. Constitutional Amendments: Naming Corporations. A "yes" vote would prohibit any amendment to the constitution, naming a private corporation to perform any function or have any power. This is aimed at preventing the American Sweepstakes Corp. from getting a 10-year monopoly to run a lottery statewide. We urge YES (together with a NO on Proposition 16).

14. Sales and Rentals of Residential Real Property. A "yes" vote would nullify housing laws like the Rumford Act and prevent such legislation in the future. We strongly urge NO.

15. Television Programs. A "yes" vote would outlaw pay TV. To ban private business like subscription television is to legislate against private enterprise instead of encouraging competition in the open market. We strongly urge NO.

16. Lottery. A "yes" vote would give a private corporation a 10-year monopoly to run a statewide lottery. The private corporation would get 13 per cent of the take, and the rest would go for education, prizes, and cost of printing tickets. This is a private, not state-operated lottery. We urge NO, NO, NO!

17. Railroad Train Crews. Commonly called the "anti-featherbedding" amendment. A "yes" vote would repeal portions of the Labor Code relating to requirement for minimum train crews and the authority of the PUC to establish regulations regarding the number of brakemen. The purpose is to permit railroads to man diesel freight trains in accordance with the award of the Federal Arbitration Board and other federal laws, or in accordance with collective bargaining agreements. This is aimed to eliminate "make work" practices on railroads. Savings would ultimately benefit the public in lower freight rates. We recommend YES.

COUNTY MEASURES

A. Marin County Low Rent Housing Measure. A "yes" vote would authorize the Marin Housing Authority to build up to 200 units of low-rent housing for Marin's elderly, with federal funds. No state or county taxes are involved. We urge YES.

B. Marin County Transit District Measure. A "yes" vote would create a transit district to study and improve transportation facilities for both commuters and for those traveling within the county. The district may levy a tax rate of up to five cents per $100 assessed valuation. Immediate aim is to improve bus service, in frequency of runs and extension of routes. Ultimate aim is high speed transit, probably as part of a Bay Area rapid transit system. We urge YES.

Make Sure You Mean Yes Or No

Proposition 14—A "no" vote means you favor the fair housing principle; a "yes" vote is to eliminate it.

Proposition 15—A "no" vote says in effect: Let pay-TV compete like any other private enteprise. A "yes" vote says: Ban pay-TV.

Measure B—County Transit District	YES

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Proposition Poses Federal Act Risk

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Do the people favoring Proposition 14, realize that they are inviting the national government to step in and solve California's housing problems? Passage of Proposition 14 would paralyze our local and state legislatures by removing an important area of social concern from legislative action.

If we wish to continue to solve our own problems without Federal interference, a NO vote on 14 is essential.

Asks Transit Study First, Then Vote

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In regard to your editorial on Sept. 22, 1964, in which you propose a "yes" vote on Proposition B for Marin County Transit District, I feel that you should point out . . . that in the outline proposed by the transportation engineers for the district . . . "it is not yet known if a district subsidy will be required, and if so, it will not be known to what extent a subsidy will be required until an implementation program is developed."

The Greyhound Corp. is losing approximately $500,000 per year . . . approximately 56,000 homeowners in Marin County would have to pay a portion of this loss if we were to subsidize. The District may levy a tax of 5 cents per $100 of assessed valuation, and it can also issue bonds not to exceed 20 per cent of the taxable property. . . .

The cost of the study estimated by the engineers at $90,000, of which $30,000 would be paid by the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, seems to be a very insignificant sum of money relative to the potential liability that mere passage of this District proposal could cause. . . .

As far as making a comparison with . . . the Alameda-Contra Costa Counties Transit District, I think it is important that you consider the population density and locale in a non-apartment area and low density area such as Marin County as opposed to the East Bay's high density of population per square mile.

Clausen Defended On Conservation

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Some weeks ago I lent my name and support to an organization known as Conservationists for McCabe.

This organization has recently sent out letters setting forth McCabe's conservation position but unfortunately implying that the incumbent, Don Clausen, has failed in his conservation responsibilities to the First District.

Anyone who has followed the progress of conservation legislation in the 88th Congress should know that Mr. Clausen's conservation record is exemplary. While I do vigorously support Mr. McCabe's positive stand on the several conservation issues outlined in his letter, I cannot endorse the statement that "the incumbent Congressman has shown no such concern for conservation."

Anyone who is familiar with Mr. Clausen's statement before the House of Representatives in support of the Wilderness Bill knows that Mr. Clausen is a good conservationist.

Moderate Republicans Start Working To Regain Control

WASHINGTON — Sen. Barry M. Goldwater's right wing leadership of the Republican Party is already being challenged by GOP moderates. Whether he wins or loses, they are mobilizing to recover their voice in party policy.

Moderate Republicans who lost control to the Goldwater people because, among other errors, they were asleep at the switch and consistently outmaneuvered, are now at work to win it back.

IT IS HEADED by an executive board of 54 nationally known Republican leaders 33 of whom held high posts in the Eisenhower administration at the cabinet and sub-cabinet level. Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati is chairman.

1. It is endorsing approximately 80 GOP nominees for senator, congressmen, governor, and some other statewide offices — from Maine to Texas from Connecticut to California.

2. It is providing political and financial support for all of these candidates to help make up for money which, in many cases, has been denied to them by the regular party organization.

3. It is creating a wide base and organization so that both elected — and defeated — moderate Republicans can work together as a team in behalf of what they want the Republican Party to stand for.

The Taft Committee is supporting such Republicans as Sens. Winston L. Prouty of Vermont, Kenneth B. Keating of New York, Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, Gov. Chaffee of Rhode Island, George Bush, running for senator in Texas, Robert Taft Jr., Ohio, Charles Percy, Illinois, Gov. George Romney, Michigan, Hiram Fong, Hawaii, Winthrop Rockefeller, Arkansas, and a substantial number of GOP Congressmen.

CHAIRMAN TAFT recently sent a letter to approximately a thousand leading Republicans. Favorable replies, with donations, have reached 90 per cent.

"Moderate Republicanism," Taft said in his letter appealing for funds, "is the only reliable guardian against excesses of any kind — whether from the left or the right.

"If the Republican Party and the two-party system are to be preserved, and especially if these vital functions are to continue to be performed in American public life, then it is essential that moderate Republican candidates be returned to office on Nov. 3 — and, if possible, in increased numbers."

THIS COMMITTEE to Support Moderate Republicans is not going to disband after the election. It intends to continue to promote the cause of moderate Republicanism.

It has surprised itself by its success in rallying Republican support for the candidates it is endorsing. It has proved that moderate Republicanism is not dead even if it slumbered during the past two years. It has learned, however, that the Republican moderates can win their way back to power within the party only by acting together and by enlisting effective professional staff which it has begun to do.

The prospect is that the leading moderate Republican candidates will run substantially stronger than Senator Goldwater in nearly every state. This will give both the elected and defeated Republican moderates a voice in party affairs which cannot be easily denied.

Democrats Spending More On Campaign

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

Up the home stretch, rival expenditures are around eight to six million dollars.

It will be some time after Tuesday's balloting before the two national committees have an idea of their total outlays. But on the basis of plans and commitments, party insiders estimate the Democrats' spending at 15 million dollars as against 12 million dollars by the Republicans.

THESE TOTALS will not include funds raised and spent by numerous supporting committees — citizens, businessmen, labor, farmers, lawyers, etc., etc. Whatever their nature and purpose, all are required by law to file separate reports.

This means it will take a detailed study of all reports—by the two national committees and their many temporary auxiliary committees—to ascertain the over-all cost of the presidential struggle.

Neither party is having difficulty obtaining funds, particularly the Democrats. Being the "ins" helps greatly on that.

ON THE OTHER hand, Sen. Barry M. Goldwater's militant "crusade" is being devotedly supported by his ardent partisans throughout the country. A recent appeal by Republican Chairman Dean Burch produced more than 6,000 telegraphed money orders and nearly 55,000 letters with money and checks—some sizable.

A distinctive feature of the GOP contributions is the thousands of small sums, $1 to $10, being sent by "grass roots" voters. In contrast, Democratic contributions are larger and chiefly from party sources.

THEY ANTICIPATE a deficit of not less than three million dollars, as in 1960, and probably more. The Democratic National Committee is not stinting; in fact, some party veterans are privately complaining about free-handed spending.

Reason for the backstage lack of concern about a big campaign debt is that the three - million - dollar deficit from the Kennedy - Johnson drive was cleared by 1962, and by the start of this year's election battle the national committee had some five million dollars in cash reserves.

THE REPUBLICAN campaign has been conducted on a stern basis. To make sure of it, the Arizonan has required a detailed financial report at his weekly strategy conferences. He has closely checked outgo with income, and insisted they stay within bounds.

The 1960 Nixon-Lodge campaign left a deficit of more than $800,000. It wasn't finally paid until early this year. As a result, when Goldwater took over the national committee its coffers were virtually empty.

Does Marin Have Civic Center Or Just Another Courthouse?

In recent weeks attorneys have outnumbered even real estate developers in appearances before the board of supervisors, planning commission and Local Agency Formation Commission.

There's been such an influx that the county might as well rename the building the Hall of Justice and save a few million bucks, or relabel the board chambers, Superior Court No. 5.

When lawyers address the board chairman as "Your Honor," and then turn to the board and say, "If it please the court," you just have to look around for the bailiff.

THE LARGEST contingent of attorneys appeared last week to argue the Mill Valley annexation squabble, and for a finishing touch there was a court reporter, stenotype machine and all, perched beside the commission.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney explained that as property values increased, more and more attorneys are appearing before county boards and commissions.

There is nothing wrong with having a lawyer to represent you if you can afford one, but there is the danger that a lawyer, knowledgeable, versed in law and persuasive of tongue, may carry greater weight than a lone citizen arguing his case.

RECENTLY COUNTY supervisors denied a bid for commercial zoning on a site between Marin Catholic High School and Wolfe Grade Elementary School, reversing an earlier resolution of intention to rezone the property.

After the reversal, two of the supervisors commented on the "eloquent presentation" made at the prior meeting by the attorney seeking the rezoning.

Neither supervisor said he cast his first vote solely because of the attorney's presentation, but it is noteworthy that they saw fit to mention it.

THE OPPOSITION then went out and got an attorney to represent them and thus there were two attorneys at the next session.

It seems that one attorney leads to another and the first thing you know they fill the courtroom . . . that is . . . the board room.

'Silent Voter' Keeps Quiet, But Wife Gives Some Hints

WASHINGTON — There has been a great deal of talk this election about the "silent vote." The silent voter may be the key to next week's election, because he is the one who refuses to tell the pollsters whom he is really for.

We were very fortunate to interview one of these silent voters the other day. He happened to be a neighbor and when we went over to the house to talk to him his wife answered the door.

"GOOD DAY, ma'am, I'm taking a poll of silent voters and I was wondering if I could talk to your husband."

"You can try, but I don't think you'll have much luck. He ain't said a word to me since the Republican convention."

GEORGE REFUSED to stand up or shake hands. His wife said: "I told you he wouldn't cooperate. All he does is sit there in the chair and purse his lips."

"Sir," we said, "I know you don't want to talk much, but the election is only a few days away and the silent vote could be a big factor in the election. Could you give me some sort of hint of whom you favor?"

George grunted.

"SIR, I KNOW your vote is secret and I certainly do not want to violate a confidence, but if we can't gauge the silent vote our polls may be way off and this could cause havoc with our free election system."

George snarled and showed his teeth.

"Did I get him angry?"

"No, he does that about every 15 minutes. He's probably thinking of one of the issues that gets him furious."

"George," we pleaded, "I'm not going to use your name. This will be just between you and me. Perhaps I'll ask questions and then all you have to do is nod your head 'Yes' or 'No'."

His wife rushed over to him and tried to calm him down. She turned to us and said: "George hates violence in the streets."

WE MADE one more attempt to talk to him, but he threw a copy of the "Conscience of a Conservative" at our head.

"I think you'd better leave now. His precinct captain said he shouldn't have too many visitors."

We got up and tried again to shake hands with him, but he still refused. So we marked down on the polling sheet next to his name: "Undecided."

10 YEARS AGO

China Camp was chosen as the site for filming scenes of a planned Hollywood movie starring John Wayne, dealing with Communist intrigue in Red China.

Two men suffocated under tons of earth and debris in a dam cave-in near Raphael Village. A third man was saved in a five-hour rescue operation.

A men's campus service club called Quindeks was ousted by College of Marin after members forced three freshmen to carry out a suicide hoax with a dummy on the Golden Gate Bridge as part of initiation hazing.

20 YEARS AGO

In an editorial titled "San Rafael Sits Back," the Marin Journal chided the city for allowing other Marin communities to put up honor rolls of men in the armed forces without doing likewise.

Golf enthusiasts were said to be "jubilant" over news the Marin Golf and Country Club, in government hands for two years, had been bought by Frank Brannan of San Anselmo and a nine-hole golf course was to be established.

Greyhound Lines announced a voluntary reduction of commuter rates. The cut meant a $1 monthly saving for holders of commute books in San Rafael and several other Marin communities.

What is the argument between the Russian and Chinese Communists all about?

Reduced to essentials, the Russians and Chinese disagree about one thing—what is the quickest and surest way to conquer the United States.

AREAS OF AGREEMENT

There are many more points of agreement between the Russian and Chinese Communists than there are points of disagreement. Both agree on the following:

1. The United States of America is the source of most of the evil in the world and must be destroyed. Both concurred in this definition of the United States which was signed by 81 Communist Parties of the World: "the greatest international exploiter, the center of world reaction, the chief bulwark of modern colonialism, the international gendarme, the main force of aggression and war, and the enemy of the world."
2. The International Communist Movement is the instrument to accomplish this destruction of America.
3. The program by which this destruction is to be carried out is called "Peaceful Coexistence." Both define this as conquest without thermonuclear war.

AREAS OF DISAGREEMENT

The Russians and Chinese disagree over the best methods to follow under the title of peaceful coexistence. The Russian Communists believe that the formula of conquest is—external encirclement plus internal demoralization equals progressive surrender. The Chinese Communists believe the best method is—internal violent revolution stimulated and led by the Communist Party concentrating upon minority groups, the unemployed workers, and the disgruntled intellectuals.

RUSSIAN — CHINESE

COMMUNIST POLICY FOR U.S. CONQUEST

To carry out their policy, the Russian Communists believe that they should:

1. Encourage wars of "national liberation" in Asia, Africa, and Latin America.
2. Neutralize Western Europe.
3. Demoralize and isolate the United States.

Conquest would then come about through a series of "accommodations" with the external encircling, blackmailing communist-dominated world power. They desire a government in power in the U.S. that will agree to these "Accommodations."

The Chinese Communists believe that the conquest of the United States is primarily the responsibility of the American Communists and the American people. From Marxist-Leninist doctrine they believe that a majority of the American people are in a state of potential rebellion against the capitalist system and the government and that a courageous and dedicated communist minority can ignite and lead this revolutionary explosion.

POLICY WITHIN AMERICA

The official American Communist Party under the leadership of Gus Hall is an obedient servant of the Russian Communists. In accord with Russian strategy, their policy is:

1. Build an image of law abiding respectability for U.S. and Russian communists.
2. Create the image of a phony fascist danger in the United States growing out of an alleged ultra-right conspiracy.
3. Focus the energies of the party on this alleged ultra-right conspiracy by a vicious attack on Senator Barry Goldwater.
4. Give qualified support to programs of the present administration.
5. Infiltrate and influence the Civil Rights movement but keep within its mainstream by supporting the established Civil Rights leaders and organizations.

Those communists in America under the influence of the Chinese Communists advocate the following policies:

1. The communists should proclaim their role as revolutionary leaders and seek to inspire and lead others to acts of revolutionary violence.
2. The attacks should be focused on the party in power.
3. They teach there is no real difference between the nature of the two parties and they have no choice between Senator Goldwater and President Johnson. Their attitude is, "A plague on both your houses."
4. Communists should lead independent Civil Rights groups in open violent rebellion.

THERMONUCLEAR WAR DIFFERENCES

On the record, the Russian Communists have shown greater thermonuclear adventurism. It was the Russian Communists who placed the missiles in Cuba and brought the world to the brink of thermonuclear destruction. The Chinese Communists did not reprove them for removing the missiles but for putting them there. They claimed this was a departure from fundamental communist principles. The official Chinese Communist statement on the question of missiles in Cuba is as follows:

"The Communist Party of China and the Chinese people have always maintained that the course of history is decided by the great strength of the masses of the people and not by any weapons. On more than one occasion we have made it clear that we neither called for the establishment of missile bases in Cuba nor obstructed the withdrawal of the so-called 'offensive weapons' from Cuba. WE HAVE NEVER CONSIDERED THAT IT WAS A MARXIST-LENINIST ATTITUDE TO BRANDISH NUCLEAR WEAPONS AS A WAY OF SETTLING INTERNATIONAL DISPUTES. Nor have we ever considered that the avoidance of a thermonuclear war in the Caribbean crisis was a 'Munich.'"

THE GREATER PERIL

Both forms of communist strategy are evil and dangerous. When communists, following the advice of the Chinese, lead violent mobs to arson, murder and pillage on the streets, the American people become aroused. Nevertheless, the greater threat to the continued existence of a free America comes from the subtle, clever, integrated program of Russian communism. If concern is focused on the obvious Chinese Communist activities, while the Russian Communist strategy continues without recognition or opposition, the communists will have won a great and possibly a decisive victory. You are just as dead if you are strangled slowly as if you are shot or stabbed.

A Personal Message from Senator Jack McCarthy

Dear Fellow Marinites:

It has been my privilege to serve as your State Senator for 14 years.

Although the position of State Senator is theoretically a part-time job, with a part-time salary, the record will show that I have devoted practically full-time effort to the job of State Senator.

My record is an open book for all to see. I hope you will not feel it immodest of me to call to your attention that I have been elected and re-elected by my fellow Senators to the second highest position in the Senate–that of Vice-chairman of Rules and that among the thousands of bills I have authored are those on Rapid Transit, creation of the Richmon-San Rafael Bridge, elimination of sales tax on prescription drugs, etc.

I earnestly solicit your vote and support so that I may continue to work for the best interests of all the people of Marin, regardless of political party.

It is also my earnest hope that you will recognize my opponent's constant mis-statements of my record as the campaign oratory that they are!

Thank you for your support and understanding.

Sincerely,

Jack McCarthy

Today is Friday, Oct. 30, the 304th day of 1964 with 62 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning stars are Jupiter, Mars and Venus. The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

Opening lead — ♠ K

West took two top spades and led a third spade to make South ruff. Declarer led a trump to dummy's 10 and returned the queen of diamonds, losing to the king.

SAFELY OUT

West got out safely with a trump, and South eventually discarded one club on the jack of diamonds. He still had to give up a club. Down one.

The rhinoceros in the ointment was the king of diamonds. All the evidence made it clear that the king was nestling securely in West's hand.

To begin with, West needed the king of diamonds for his vulnerable opening bid. For another, East would have spoken at his first or second turn if he had the king of diamonds in addition to his Q-x-x of spades.

PASSED HAND

It was flying in the face of facts to assume that West had made a semi-psychic opening bid and that East had passed a hand that was worth a response.

South should make the contract by facing the fact that West has the king of diamonds.

TAKES KING

If West takes his king, South can later clear the ace of diamonds out of the way and draw three rounds of trumps ending in the dummy. Then he discards both low clubs on the queen and jack of diamonds.

If West fails to take the king of diamonds, South gets no discards but doesn't lose a diamond trick.

DAILY QUESTION

You hold:

♠ J 9 5
♥ A 10 4
♦ Q J 8 7
♣ 10 8 4

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one notrump.

A raise to two spades is possible, but this is undesirable when you have comparatively weak spades and completely flat distribution. The notrump response is a better description of your hand, such as it is.

It's the new generation of Color TV

Another important advantage is this: The new tube is about 5.2 inches shorter from front to back than ordinary round color tubes so Color/65 cabinets can be slim and trim. They fit back close to the wall . . . blend beautifully with other furnishings. Choose from many fine furniture designs including decorator sets designed by Drexel exclusively for Motorola.

MOTOROLA FEATURES:

- 100% Handwired Chassis
- Power Transformer
- Dual Output Tubes
- Two 4 x 6 Hi-Fi Speakers
- Color Purifier (Auto. Degausing System) eliminates worry of moving set
- Genuine Oiled Walnut Cabinet

Dixie School Board Lets Site Contract

The Dixie School District board Wednesday night awarded a contract for site development for the Dixie Elementary School site in Upper Lucas Valley to Maggiora, Ghilotti and Madsen of Corte Madera, low bidder, at $43,990.

Seven firms bid on the job, the highest bid being $101,886.

The board rejected three bids for construction of a special classroom at Bernard Hoffman School because they were too high. The bids ranged frorm $16,948 to $13,097, and the district has allowed only $8,843 for the job.

The board approved plans and authorized construction of an 81-foot span across Miller Creek at Miller Creek School. The cost was estimated at $3,000 plus fees.

The Dixie School District board also:

1. Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Leona Chartock, kindergarten teacher at Don Timoteo School, effective the end of the first half of the school year. She is moving from the district.

2. Granted leaves of absence to Mrs. Patricia Wright and Mrs. Muriel Sparks, teachers at Vallecito School, and authorized hiring of Joan Wright to succeed Mrs. Sparks.

3. Changed the date of its second meeting in November from Nov. 25 to Nov. 24 because of Thanksgiving.

Fred Jensen Sentencing Is Delayed

Sentencing of Fred E. Jensen, San Rafael city councilman, was delayed in Marin Municipal Court yesterday until 3 p.m. next Thursday to give Judge Harold J. Haley time to read the probation department's report and recommendation.

Judge Haley said "happenstance" in scheduling caused the probation hearings yesterday to fall in his court, and he had insufficient time to read the report. Jensen, 64, entered "no contest" please Sept. 21 to misdemeanor charges of brandishing a revolver in a threatening manner, and malicious mischief.

He allegedly committed the offenses Sept. 3 in the home of Mrs. Juliet Bobo, 211 California Street, San Rafael, his ex-wife. Jensen was present in the courtroom yesterday, accompanied by his attorney, Thomas P. Boyd, San Rafael. It was Jensen's first personal appearance in the matters.

Care To Live In A Moorish Castle?

Or a castle on the Rhine?

Procuring such accommodations is the specialty of a new travel organization, World Wide Living Inc., which deals in luxury housing abroad for discriminating American travelers.

The firm can procure, for example, a 16th century, seven-bedroom castle in Tangier, built by Moorish invaders; a 14th century farmhouse near Paris that once was the pleasure abode of Louis VIII; or a three-story terraced villa in Majorca, overlooking the yachts of Europe's pleasure set.

IT ADMITTEDLY caters to a limited market.

"We are in business for the man who travels to vacation, rather than the person who vacations to travel," said James McLaughlin, executive secretary.

"We put these people in neighborhoods where they can meet their sophisticated counterparts around the world, or just relax with the nobility."

The major lament of World Wide is the "luxury housing shortage" in Europe — luxury housing on the European standard roughly compares to middle class housing in America, said McLaughlin.

EUROPEAN ECONOMIC programs, it seems, have forced more and more rural workers into the cities, dwindling the housing supply, while at the same time enriching more persons who then want to spend their wealth on better housing.

This shortage, said Michael Paulin, a second member of the organization, was a reason the organization started.

"Thousands of Americans leave to live in foreign countries each year," Paulin said. "In Southern Europe—that is, Greece, Italy, France and Spain —more than 75,000 Americans have taken residence, not counting government workers."

PAULIN AND McLaughlin, together with overseas representative Kenneth Katz, arrange for these expartriates to be surrounded with gardens, yachts and scenic views during their stay abroad instead of tourist-clogged downtown hotels and apartments.

Katz travels the spa and resort areas of the Continent from his overseas headquarters in Majorca, Spain — itself an established pleasure center.

"WE HAVE PROVIDED anything from fully appointed yachts and villas to deluxe condominium apartments along the Mediterranean coast," Paulin said.

"More than half of these overseas residents are retired doctors, executives and government employes who find stimulating relaxation through a change in environment."

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

And speaking of hobbies, there was one group of Terra Linda youngsters who, while other children were playing, traveling, swimming or just relaxing, spent their summer vacations folk dancing. Now they are hoping that the many hours they have devoted to the intricate pastime will pay off as a fund-raising project for "Meals for Millions." Lillian McGovern has written the story of the Vingt-Six Dancers and their unusual idea for the weekend supplement.

After work, when Samuel P. Taylor State Park Supt. Neil Power wants a change of pace, he goes to one of his three looms. Power is one of three male members of the Tamalpais Weavers. And he does not regard his hobby of weaving as inappropriate for a man. In fact, he says, male weavers have an advantage over the women in some respects. Independent-Journal reporter Richard Lyttle tells you about the park ranger and his unusual hobby in tomorrow's I-J magazine.

Heaviest traffic in Marin County

Each day, 84,560 readers cross over to a full view of the news . . . and of advertised values

This is one bridge that, for all its reader traffic, is never jammed. Readers move leisurely through the I-J's 8 "lanes" of news and advertising, taking in everything. Because this is THEIR BRIDGE to complete information in Marin County.

If you're an advertiser, the I-J is the ONE BRIDGE that spans the entire county . . . the direct freeway for bringing more customers at least cost to your store. Many a business has built its sales success by consistently using the I-J and nothing else.

Merchants who cannot afford weak advertising results (much less hard cash) know there's no substitute for the I-J's bonafide circulation. In the I-J, they buy EXPOSURE, not just space. They buy guaranteed, paid circulation, not a claimed figure.

And with the I-J, they find that reader interest in advertising is cabled closely to top news coverage and features. That's what makes the I-J THE BIGGEST BRIDGE, AND THE SAFEST BRIDGE, in attracting customer traffic to your store.

THE SIMPLE MATHEMATICS OF I-J READER TRAFFIC

The I-J is subscribed to by 35,271 households in Marin County (more than 2 out of every 3 homes). Each household, research shows, averages 2.4 readers of the I-J. Thus, simply by multiplying I-J circulation (35,271 households) by 2.4, you get 84,650 readers. And that's daily!

- And the PRIME MEDIUM for reaching Marin families is the Independent-Journal, COVERING 2 OUT OF EVERY 3 HOMES in the County.
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED.
- In the I-J, your sales message goes where the GREATEST NUMBER of BUYERS are.
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH-PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.
- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves.

HOMES IN THE WOODS

The great success story in homes last Spring was the enormous reception given the superb collection of homes in Glenwood Forest. These 73 homes, sheltered in a natural cul-de-sac of rolling tree-covered hills, were gone within 3 months. To those who came too late, we promised a similar limited collection of homes nearby. Now we are keeping this promise. Magnificent 3 and 4 bedroom homes with 2 and 3 baths, spacious living room and enormous family room, beautifully situated among green hills thick with trees. Adjacent to the Peacock Gap Golf & Country Club, New Glenwood Forest is only 7 minutes from downtown San Rafael. Of course, if you were not looking for a home at that time, and were unaware there was a Glenwood Forest, you're in for a rare treat. New Glenwood Forest is even more desireable.

WHERE DO THEY COME FROM?
- The largest percentage of home buyers (71.9%)* who buy homes in the Novato Area are ALREADY living in Marin County.
- And the PRIME MEDIUM for reaching Marin families is the Independent-Journal, COVERING 2 OUT OF EVERY 3 HOMES in the county.
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED.
- In the I-J, your sales message goes where the GREATEST NUMBER of BUYERS are.
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH-PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.
- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves.
- SOURCE: "A Survey on the Origins of Home Buyers in Marin County," conducted by the Marin County Abstract and Title Company.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Many Individuals Suffer Dizzy Spells When First Getting Up

VAN DELLEN

When an individual assumes the upright position, many reflexes help offset the effects of gravity on the circulation. The arteries constrict and the blood pressure rises; this prevents blood from making a rapid exit from the brain and pooling in the abdomen and lower extremities. When these reflexes are sluggish, the individual may feel wooZy for a few minutes on getting out of bed.

Many older people have this problem and nothing can be done except to take it easy on arising. Patients recovering from a long illness requiring bed rest also experience dizziness when they start standing or walking about. This weakness usually disappears as exercise increases and the vessels develop more tone.

ONE OF OUR readers told of feeling giddy and exhausted during the first hour or two after getting up in the morning. "The bathroom light grows dim while I'm shaving, and unless I sit down, I will have a blackout." He went on to say his physician had checked his blood pressure; it was 105 when lying down and 55 on standing. This is how the condition was diagnosed.

This troublesome complaint is known as orthostatic, or postural hypotension. There are two types. The idiopathic is caused by an inherent dysfunction of the reflexes. Such malfunctioning may cause impotency in men, bladder disturbances, and failure to sweat from the waist down. These individuals are helped by sleeping with the head of the bed elevated and the use of cortisone-like hormones.

THE OTHER TYPE is secondary to conditions like pregnancy and the use of certain drugs such as tranquilizers and those used in the treatment of high blood pressure. This is one of the unpleasant side effects of using certain anti-hypertensive agents; they cause a marked fall in blood pressure on standing. The dosage must be adjusted, to minimize the drop in pressure.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer swer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

MARIN FILM FARE

By LES DARD

TAMALPAIS THEATER

A meticulous investigation of the crash begins, with much incriminating evidence pointing to the dead pilot — who had a long-standing reputation as a girl-chaser and general play boy.

The airline, of course, would like to absolve itself of guilt by throwing all the crash blame on the deal pilot. But Ford risks his reputation and career to prove otherwise.

RAFAEL THEATER

You smiled when you sat down to see "Dr. Strangelove," but don't expect to do that with "Fail Safe," which opens on Sunday.

Both films involve an accidental nuclear doomsday. But "Strangelove" was a black comedy. This is deadly, shivering serious.

In "Strangelove," a fleet of nuclear bombers was sent against Russia by a demented general. In "Fail Safe," the same thing happens because of a confused computer.

NOVATO THEATER

The story takes place in Chicago during the gangster era, with Sinatra as a hood called Robbo and Dean Martin as his chief lieutenant. Sammy Davis is one of Sinatra's boys, and Peter Falk plays the head of a rival gang.

MOTOR MOVIES

Peter Sellers stars in "The World of Henry Orient," which made the more engaging by the presence of two teen-age girls, Tippy Walker and Merrie Spaeth.

The pair are exploring Manhattan's Central Park when they come upon concert pianist Henry Orient — Sellers, that is — amorously engaged with Paula Prentiss. From then on, one girl has a crush on Henry, and his sometimes lush love-life is thoroughly frustrated.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

Sinatra, Dean Martin and Peter Lawford play the adventurers of the title, non-coms serving with the cavalry pacifying a band of Indians determined to recaim their Utah territory.

101 DRIVE-IN and SEQUOIA THEATER

Sophia Loren and Marcello Mastroianni star in the three unrelated episodes that make up "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow."

It is currently at the 101 Drive-In and starts Sunday at the Sequoia.

In the first episode, Sophia keeps the police away by being almost perpetually pregnant so she can sell cigarets on the Naples black market. After seven babies off she goes to jail.

Then the scenes switch to Milan where Sophia is a rich unhappy wife and Mastroianni is her lover. Finally, she's a Roman prostitute and Mastroianni is her best customer.

FAIRFAX THEATER

O'Toole plays young Henry II in 12th Century England. He has little regard for the heavy responsibilities of the kingdom, and seeks release in wild escapades with his Saxon companion and advisor Thomas Becket.

After troubles with the church, Henry names Becket Archbishop of Canterbury.

LARK THEATER

Bogarde plays the servant who undercuts his young aristocrat master mentally, morally and physically. Underneath his "perfect servant" facade, he is never satisfied in the total degradation of his master, played by Fox.

A PERFECT (AND FAIR) LADY

Audrey Hepburn portrays Eliza Doolittle, the guttersnipe who is transformed under the watchful eye of Professor Higgins, portrayed by Rex Harrison, in the Warner Brothers production of "My Fair Lady," which had its Northern California premiere yesterday at the Coronet Theater in San Francisco. The musical is being shown on a reserved seat basis.

No Comment

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI) — Editor Benjamin Strange of the Toledo Monitor, a weekly business newspaper, picked up a copy of this week's edition yesterday and found the Monitor had endorsed State Rep. Charles Kurfess, his opponent for the state legislature. Strange had no comment.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Ratings Are Like Funny Card Hands

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—In his excellent book, "Scarne's Complete Guide to Gambling," John Scarne, who has appeared on NBC-TV's Jack Parr show, tells this famous poker story, which was printed as far back as 1896:

A card sharper entered a Butte, Mont., saloon, bought into a game and dealt himself four aces. He was called, spread his hand and reached for the pot. "Not so fast, sonny," said an old prospector, laying down three clubs and two diamonds. "In this town a lollapalooza beats any other poker hand. And that's what I've got—three clubs and two diamonds."

The sharp next dealt himself a lollapalooza and gave the prospector four aces. Called again, he said, "I've got the lollapalooza," but the prospector, raking in the pot, said: "Sorry, pardner. You should ask the rules before you deal yourself in. The lollapalooza hand can only be played once a night."

I offer this story, with no charge for research, to "CBS-Reports," which is preparing a study of television ratings, the system known fondly as "the only game in town." The first major ratings have recently been released, and though everyone knows there have been many pre-emptions for political broadcasts and news specials, the statistics have registered with the impact of a lollapalooza because of the supposed indications, some of which follow:

Monday night, which used to be dominated by CBS-TV with its Lucille Ball-Andy Griffith-Danny Thomas parlay, now has been taken over by ABC-TV, say the Nielsen ratings. The ABC-TV lineup is "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea," "No Time for Sargeants," "Wendy and Me," the Bing Crosby show and "Ben Casey."

Tuesday, says Nielsen, is also strong for ABC-TV. And the lineup here is "Combat," "McHale's Navy," "The Tycoon," "Peyton Place" and "The Fugitive." ABC-TV, which is the talk of the industry because of its numbers showing, also led in Nielsen figures for Thursday, the bulk of its ratings pull coming from Donna Reed, "My Three Sons," "Bewitched" and the other half of "Peyton Place."

Wednesday went to NBC-TV, which has only two shows on that night: "The Virginian" and the Wednesday night movie. Saturday also went to NBC-TV, primarily because of "Flipper" and the Saturday night movie, with a slight bit of help from "Kentucky Jones." And NBC-TV also took Sunday, far and away because of "Bonanza," the top-rated show, which got a little help from Walt Disney's hour. Although CBS-TV was second to ABC-TV in over-all average, Nielsen says it took only Friday, and this is almost entirely because of the new series about a hillbilly marine, "Gomer Pyle."

ABC-TV, according to Nielsen, came close to grabbing off Friday too, with "The Addams Family" pulling strong, and "The Farmer's Daughter," "Valentine's Day" and "12 O'Clock High" chipping in.

The supposedly definitive ratings aren't due until December, but in television the definitive rating is the last rating anyone sees. In any case, don't lose too much sleep over the apparent slide of CBS-TV. It only took in 73 million dollars last year.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: The Democrats, who originally bought one hour of air time on NBC-TV for this Monday, election eve, have now reduced their purchase to half the time, and the Republicans have picked up the other half . . . the Democrats go on at 10 p.m. (EST), and the Republicans at 10:30 (EST) . . . The GOP also bought 15 minutes tonight on NBC-TV, starting at 11:15 p.m. (EST).

Vice presidential nominees Hubert H. Humphrey and William E. Miller are scheduled to be interviewed separately on NBC-TV's "Today" program Monday . . . Barbra Streisand's first one-hour special for CBS-TV is set for April 28 . . . Shirley Booth guests on NBC-TV's Andy Williams show Nov. 16 . . . Cecil Beaton, costume designer for the movie "My Fair Lady," appears on "Today" Tuesday.

Okinawa Chief Can't Take Seat

NAHA, Okinawa (UPI) — Five thousand pro-Japanese demonstrators forcibly prevented the legislature of the American-controlled Ryukku Islands from convening last night to nominate a new chief executive.

The mob overwhelmed 700 policemen and staged a sit-in in the legislature building and on the plaza in front of it. Three persons were slightly injured.

The legislators will reconvene Saturday to nominate U.S.-educated Seiho Matsuoka, 68. But his investiture by the U.S. high commissioner Lt. Gen. Albert Watson II was postponed indefinitely.

Controversial Panhandle Route Again Backed

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The California Highway Commission yesterday reaffirmed its support of the controversial Panhandle Freeway in San Francisco — a route opposed by the city's board of supervisors.

The commission, on a 6 to 1 vote, decided that one alternative to the freeway, a tunnel through the Pacific Heights area, would be "impractical."

The group said it was the "consensus" of the commission that the Panhandle plan would be appropriate.

Robert Bradford, administrator of the highway transportation agency, said the state would cooperate with San Francisco in solving traffic problems.

School Job Bids To Be Rejected

San Jose School District must reject all bids for multi-use rooms at Loma Verde and San Jose Intermediate schools as too high, Asst. Supt. Duane Moeller reported today.

Bids were opened Wednesday and will be submitted to the school district trustees at their meeting Monday night with recommendation for rejection, he said.

Previous bids for the Loma Verde multi-use room were rejected as too high and the job was put out to bid in combination with the room at San Jose Intermediate School in hope of getting lower offers.

Low bidder on the two rooms was Wright and Oretsky of Santa Rosa at $339,800. Other bids were M. Royce Hall at $367,500 and W. J. Kubon Co. of San Rafael at $394,798. Clifford D. Francis bid $134,998 1or the Loma Verde job alone.

The district has only $118,618 allocated for the two rooms.

Supreme Court 'Working Less'

TEANECK, N.J. (AP)—Associate Justice William O. Douglas says the work load on the U.S. Supreme Court is much lighter now than it was 25 years ago.

"In 1939 when I first joined the court, it heard 300 hours of arguments," he said. "Last year we heard 223 hours. Now we work a five-day week, but we used to work a six-day week.

Novato Joins Parade For Underground Utility Lines

The Novato City Council this week ordered a planning staff study of an ordinance to require placing electric and telephone lines underground in all new subdivisions.

Mayor Robert D. Carrow, who proposed the study, said his main purpose is to "keep Novato beautiful." Another value of underground installation, commented City Administrator J. Julien Baget, is increased safety.

"We hope to come out of the study with one or possibly two ordinances," Carrow said.

First to be considered, he reported, will be an ordinance to require underground utility lines in all new subdivisions. Second will be one for placing lines underground in older sections of the city.

The San Rafael City Council last year passed an ordinance requiring utility lines to placed underground in the downtown "heart" of the city, with the work to be done in stages over a period of years. First stage is now nearing completion.

The San Rafael Council discussed, but has not yet acted upon, an ordinance requiring underground utilities in new subdivisions. Objection raised has been the increased cost—which Mayor John F. McInnis, prime proponent of requiring underground utilities, contends need not be so great as Pacific Gas and Electric Co. claims it would be.

The San Rafael Planning Commission, on its own initiative, has required underground utilities in some new subdivisions as a condition of approving subdivision maps.

Sausalito broke ground in the field over seven years ago, passing an ordinance on April 2, 1957, requiring that utility lines be put underground along the waterfront side of Bridgeway from Richardson Street to Johnson Street and on Caledonia Street from Napa Street to Bridgeway.

Sausalito still has no ordinance requiring underground utilities in new subdivisions, but a new subdivision ordinance is now under study and City Mgr. Charles A. Brown said requirement for underground utilities "may very well be included in it."

Mill Valley has ordinances to force utility lines underground both in new subdivisions and in a part of the downtown area. One ordinance gives the city council authority to require underground installation in all new subdivisions of four or more lots, on recommendation of the planning commission. Another requires undergrounding of the lines on Miller Avenue, to be carried out in stages over a period of years as in the San Rafael downtown ordinance. This work is under way.

Corte Madera's subdivision ordinance gives the town planning commission authority to require underground lines in new subdivisions. Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow said utilities have been put underground in Marin Highlands and Parkview Terrace subdivisions as a result of city requirement.

Requiring underground utilities in new subdivisions in Marin County's unincorporated areas has been discussed at the planning staff and planning commission level, but has not been before the board of supervisors, reported David Van Pelt, acting planning director.

Some figures on the cost of underground installation expected in Novato were supplied today by representatives of PG&E and of the two telephone companies serving Novato.

Lee Wise, Novato manager of PG&E, said underground installation would add approximately $2 per front foot to the cost of serving a lot with electricity. However, Mayor Carrow said figures presented at the League of California Cities convention last week indicated the cost should be nearer $1 per front foot.

Ross Wright, manager of Western California Telephone Co., said his company has had little experience with underground installation. Its lines were put underground in the San Marin subdivision, but there the work was done by the developer.

Donald Kane, senior engineer for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., said the average cost of putting phone lines underground works out to be about $1.75 per front foot in new developments where the developer does the conduit work. In the downtown San Rafael changeover from overhead lines to underground, the cost has run as high as $12.33 per front foot, he said.

Polaris Subs Capable Of Killing 40 Millions

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The presently deployed force of 17 Polaris submarines could kill up to 40 million persons if called upon to retaliate against an enemy strike on U.S. cities, the Navy calculates.

Secretary of the Navy Paul H. Nitze gave that estimate yesterday in saying that if the United States had only a single strategic force the Polaris fleet probably would be best. He spoke at a Navy League luncheon.
